Communities balk

Approvals for court plan dribbling in

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

The "ad hoc" committee assigned the task of finding a means to build a new 34th District Court building in Romulus is having some difficulty obtaining approval from the communities and agencies that use the court.

The committee has recommended approval of a construction plan, which would require all communities to share in the costs of operating the court based on each one's "use" of the facilities, and has asked that communities agree to request federal funds to cover the cost of construction.

However, in the case of sharing costs based on the "use" of the court, both the Wayne County Road Commission, the Supter Township Board of Trustees, and Romulus

City Council are delaying a decision.

The road commission is objecting to the method the "ad hoc" committee used to determine the road agency's "use" of the court. The road commission's primary involvement is through the collection of parking fines by the court's violation bureau.

The principal measure of a community's "use," however, is determined by the number of cases brought before a judge, either for arraignment, pre-trial examination or trial.

Traffic tickets aren't considered a "case" and the road commission's 8½-percent "use" figure was extrapolated from the large number of traffic tickets processed by the court.

The tickets originate from Metropolitan Airport in Romulus, which is operated by the road commission.

In the case of Sumpter Township, it may be timing which is delaying a decision on approving the group, since Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi is one of the "ad hoc" committee members who has promoted the group concept from the start.

Romulus' concern is that the use of federal funds for the construction of a court building may be "charged" against the community's total allotment under the recently approved Federal Public Works grant program.

Romulus officials had hoped to use the community's allotment of funds to cover the cost of constructing a new fire station in Romulus' southern section to replace one adjacent to the existing 34th District Court building.

The road commission's main concern isn't clearly defined, however some members of the "ad hoc" committee feel that the agency's delay may be related to its concern over forming a "group" to operate the court.

No time limit has been set for obtaining approval, but some "deadlines" are approaching, since the public works grant money eventually will run out of fund requests are delayed.

Both Van Buren and Huron townships face some changes on their board of trustees in November, and new members of the board may have new ideas on how to handle the court problem.

Presently, the authority is overseeing the completion of a sewer line extension project in Van Buren.

Because of its arrangement, the authority also will allow new officials in Canton Township flexibility in planning their own public improvements.

Canton can either engage in more development or slow its development in the area of water and sewer plans, without any interference from Van Buren representatives on the authority.

"The authority was established before the present Canton officials were elected," Gollwitzer said. "When Greenstein, Parsell and Cheske were elected to in office along with another of their team, it didn't change the status of the authority as far as Van Buren was concerned."

"The same should hold true with the change in officials as a result of the primary."

The three Canton officials were elected in 1974 as part of a Democratic slate which also included Trustee Robert Myers, who was elected to a 4-year term. Myers did not have to face reelection this year.

Since Canton's election outcome does not worry Van Buren, the converse should be true regarding Van Buren's election.

A PANAX EDITORIAL

Detroit must remove Young, oust Tannian

Coleman Young must go.
Philip Tannian must be removed.
Detroit Records Court must put all of the people ahead of a few.

Gov. Milliken, supported by the Legislature, must move forcefully to protect Detroit's law-abiding, fear-paralyzed citizens until those steps can be taken.

Sunday night's wild orgy of rape, pillage and vandalism in downtown Detroit is just the beginning. Unless something is done.

Immediate, visible, tough action is the only answer. The time for explanations, excuses, buck passing and rationalizations is gone.

The social theorists have been discredited. They are the ones who for two generations have successfully blamed the system, classism and all the other indefinite parts of society that it was safe to attack because there is no single responsible authority.

The moment has arrived for one-on-one law enforcement. It has arrived for punishment for law breaking. It has arrived for an end to Detroit courts and police being the tools of a system whose brain trust is expert in mass sympathy but which doesn't know a damned thing about protecting an individual on the streets of the city.

Young is the symbol of Detroit. To the gangs of young thugs he is the city's first black mayor, elected to protect them from the oppression of the honkies—their way.

To law abiding residents of Detroit and the suburbs he is the symbol of a steadily deteriorating city where there no longer is any argument about whether its streets are safe—they aren't.

Tannian, as Young's chief law enforcement officer, shares that perception.

It was Tannian who said after Sunday night's rampage, that the thugs were organized, following a pre-conceived plan. This despite the Young-Tannian proclamation that "we're not going to turn our streets over to thugs" and their claims to have beefed up the street gang detail of the police department.

It is all-too-familiar rhetoric.

Rhetoric doesn't prevent young women from being stripped to their shoes in an alley and gang raped. It doesn't prevent roving gangs from taking over Woodward Avenue. It doesn't prevent 100-member gangs from beating up people in downtown parking lots.

And nothing Young or Tannian can say or do will restore the confidence needed to preserve what is left of Detroit. Nothing either can say or do will convince the gangs they mean business.

Detroit must have new leadership. Leadership that means business and proves it with action—not words.

Tannian says forceful action no longer is a police option. That is his reaction to the cries of "police brutality" raised too often by the accused criminal and his or her cohorts. Who raises a cry of "thug brutality" on behalf of that stripped-to-shoes rape victim?

Resignation, recall or impeachment are the only three ways this can be done. All take a long time.

There isn't any time. The thousands of Detroit residents, black and white, who are trying to live normal lives, cannot. The murder rate is at an all time high—even for Detroit. Organized gangs literally rule too many residential neighborhoods. They rule with force and fear.

Too many suburban residents, forced to go into Detroit to earn their living — and there are thousands of them—are in danger. Downtown Detroit as a cultural center, as an entertainment center, as a convention center, as a center of city and county government, is becoming a jungle where only the quick and deadly survive.

Cities are a creation of the state. Until the ponderous, time consuming legal recourses of impeachment or recall can be carried out it is up to the state to do something.

Gov. Milliken should consider declaring martial law. The State Supreme Court should monitor or even take over Records Court and make sure that criminals go where criminals should go—to jail. The legislature must support those moves and remove the mollycoddling restrictions it has written which restrict police and the courts.

These are stopgap measures. The final answer is tough, firm, unbending leadership that will act to end Detroit's lawlessness—not make excuses. To get that:

Coleman Young must go.
Philip Tannian must be removed.

Need 85% turnout

Big Nov. vote could ensure award for city

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

Romulus' hot and cold voting history may not prove the community voters have "total involvement" in their governmental processes, but a "hot" trend gives the community a chance to win a prize this year.

The community's 28.3-percent voter turnout during the November, 1974, congressional elections gives Romulus a chance to win a "most improved turn-out" award in the "America Vote '76" competition to be named "America's Votingest City."

The 28.3-percent turnout—or 4,443 residents of a total of 15,686 registered voters — means the community has the greatest potential for improvement when tallies are added up determine "America's Votingest City" on Nov. 2.

Awards will be given in late December to the winners from among 180 communities who in their population class:

- Show the highest percentage of registered voters of voting age residents.

- Record the highest percent of registered voters—casting their ballots on Nov. 2, 1976.

- Show the greatest improvement in either registering voters or in the number of registered voters casting ballots in comparison with the Nov. 5, 1974, figures.

Romulus City Clerk Leonard Folmar entered the community in the competition because he believed "Romulus residents have pride in their government, and show their pride by voting."

Folmar estimated that the community's sometimes 70-percent voter turnout indicates that residents will get out to cast their ballots in the Nov. 2 general election this year.

However, the community's "voter involvement" is an up and down thing, with local elections drawing the most voter interest and non-presidential year congressional elections attracting the fewest number of voters.

Romulus' 1974 Congressional election year total of 28.3 percent compares to a median figure of 49.5 percent of registered voters casting ballots from among the 180 communities entered in the competition. Communities entered in the contest range in size from 500,000 for Columbus, O., to 31 for Pahaquarry, N. J.

Special certificates of merit will be given to communities that record 80-percent, 85-percent, 90-percent and 95-percent voter turn outs in November.

Folmar estimates that Romulus could win the competition in its population class by recording upwards of 85-percent.

Wanted: A piano for two hours

The Romulus Bicentennial Choir is planning to offer some toe-tapping music in a weekend concert next week, but the group may find itself without an accompaniment.

According to Janet Darnell, head of the choir, the musical group is in need of a piano for the 2-hour performance at Kennedy Park Aug. 28.

She is hoping that a resident in the community will answer the choir's plea and lend a piano for use during the 1 p.m. performance.

"As chairman of the Bicentennial Choir, I have had no luck in securing a piano," she said. "If we had one for the 2-hour affair, we would be very grateful."

There are about 40 to 50 participants in the musical group, which will present Bicentennial songs as well as special selections by the individual churches that make up the group. Each special performance will be either the church's teen, Sunday School or adult groups.

Residents who are interested in loaning a piano for use during the concert can contact Mrs. Darnell at 941-5841.

Sewer authority 'strong as ever'

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Roman Staff Writer

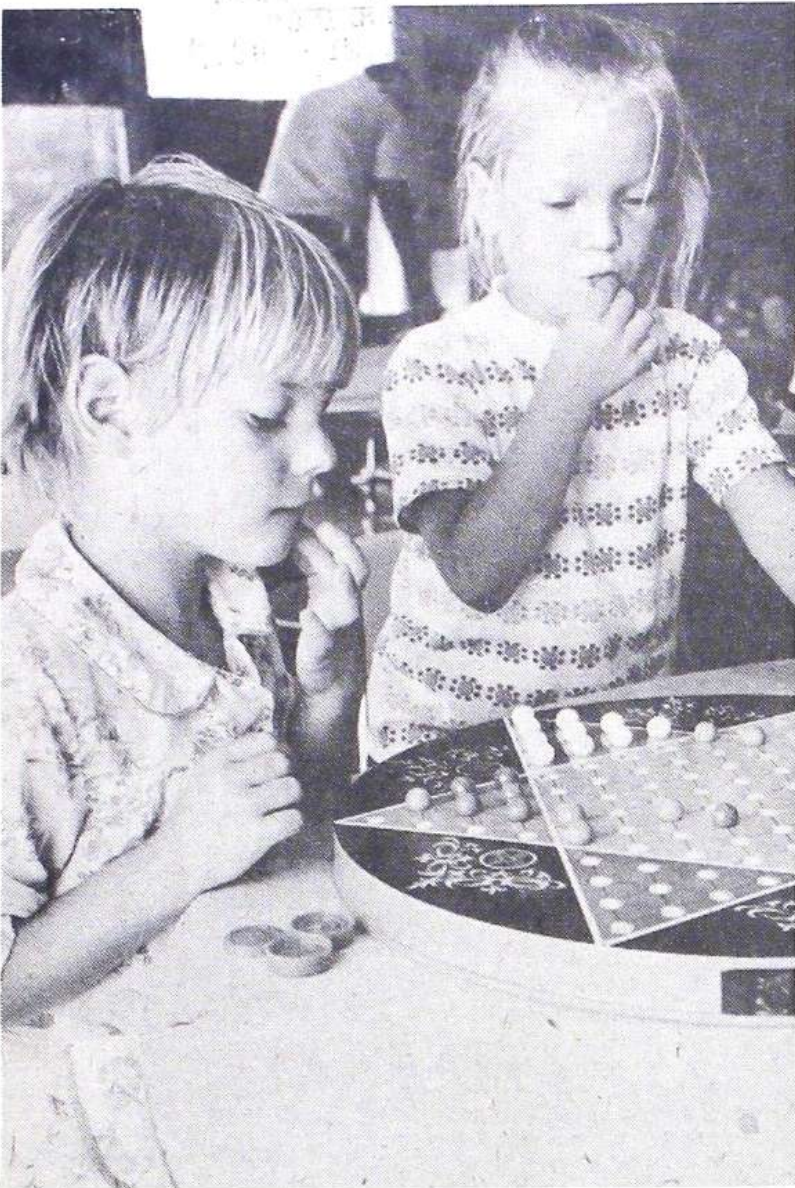

Officials in Van Buren Township don't fear for the future of the Van Buren-Canton Water and Sewer Authority following the defeat of Canton Township Supervisor Robert Greenstein and Treasurer Carl Parsell and Trustee Jerry Cheske.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer said the future of the authority is as "strong as ever" despite the definite changes Canton will undergo in its leadership.

"The water and sewer authority is set up in a way which allows each community to go its separate way on construction and funding while using the agency as a means to escape the high cost of dealing with the county," Gollwitzer said. "For that reason, the events in Canton cannot affect the future of Van Buren Township."

Established more than a year ago, the water and sewer authority is designed to provide an official means for both communities to handle their own water and sewer development, rather than going through the Wayne County public works division for project aid.

The authority retains its own engineer and bonding consultants and is operated by representatives appointed from each community.

Theology student garners spot in 'Book of Records'

A Romulus resident now studying theology in Nashville, Tenn., has found fame at the end of a bowling alley.

Nineteen-year-old Robert LeVan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LeVan of Marc Street, Romulus, bowled for a 79-pin-per game average during a series of games he started on June 21, but the David Lipscomb College student earned a spot in the Guinness Book of World Records by accumulating that average during 546 consecutive games.

LeVan, a graduate of Romulus High School, bowled for 131 hours and 15 minutes with only 5-minute rests each hour to become the person in the world who bowled for the longest time at one try.

LeVan's highest game during the 546-game series was 202, and his lowest game was a six, which he rolled under the handicap of sitting in a chair.

According to LeVan's mother, Marie, the student decided to undertake the test on a whim and complained only of sore and swollen ankles after knocking down 43,263 pins in his world record endurance record at the foul line.

"It was something he wanted to do, and we thought his coming from Romulus would be of interest to the citizens of this community," Mrs. LeVan said.

The 43,263 series was rolled during the week of June 21 and covered nearly six days.

During his quest for fame, the theology student also may have set a record for enduring nutritional hardship. According to his mother, LeVan kept his strength up during the grueling test of skill by drinking pop and eating hamburgers. Despite the apparent strain on one's arm tossing a bowling ball for 131 hours would cause, LeVan's only ailment after the test were the sore ankles.

20,000 walkers set to cross 'Big Mac'

Walking enthusiasts— young and old alike—are lacing up their hiking boots in preparation for the 19th annual Labor Day Morning Mackinac Bridge Walk, slated for 7:30 a.m. Sept. 6.

As in the past seven years, Gov. and Mrs. William G. Milliken will lead the estimated 20,000 persons in the walk across the bridge from Mackinac City to St. Ignace.

Traffic control for the event, the only time each year pedestrian traffic is allowed on the bridge, will be handled by the 146th Military Police Battalion. The National Guard also will be on hand to assure the safety of bridge walkers and the smooth movement of bridge traffic.

To avoid crowds for arriving at the starting line, bridge officials are suggesting that participants drive across the bridge to that point and leave vehicles at the Fare Plaza parking area. Walkers will be able to return to the site after the event by way of buses which cost 50 cents per person.

The cut-off time to start the walk will be 10 a.m. Walkers will occupy the two east lanes of the bridge, while north- and southbound traffic will share the two west lanes. At approximately 10 a.m. northbound traffic will be moved into the inside lane on the east side, while walkers will be funneled into the outside lane.

Bridge officials also are pointing out that there will be no relief stations on the Fare Plaza or on the bridge, advising participants to consider that prior to starting the 1- to 2-hour walk.

Social aims at elderly, disabled

The parish grounds of St. Aloysius Church will be the site of an outdoor interdenominational service and picnic social, to be staged by the Helping Hand Thrift Shop for the elderly and disabled living in Western Wayne County.

According to Florence Klein, director of the Thrift Shop, the gathering is "to show our love and concern for others."

The interdenominational church service will begin at 12 p.m. Aug. 28 and will be followed by the social.

According to Mrs. Klein, chairs will be set up behind the church, located at 11280 Ozga Road, Romulus, with space left clear for those in wheelchairs. Area also will be set aside for those participants who wish to remain in their cars.

A folk group from St. Aloysius Parish will perform during the service, and Mrs. Klein hopes to have several other musical groups involved in the rite.

Following the picnic, the Romulus Bicentennial Choir will be presenting a musical interlude for the picnicers.

"How long has it been since you took your elderly or disabled neighbor or relative on an outing?" Mrs.

Klein asked. "Imagine how happy they would be to be asked to take part in this community church service and picnic."

Mrs. Klein added that there will be no steps for participants to climb and that communion will be brought to those who remain seated.

Mrs. Klein continued: "If you have no one to bring, won't you take the time and bring one of the less fortunate who has no one to transport them there. Wouldn't you like to pack a nice picnic lunch and surprise them? Let's really give them something to remember."

During the picnic, the shop will be serving hot coffee and cookies.

Mrs. Klein hopes to reach not only the elderly residents of the area, but also the disabled, chronic shut-ins and residents of convalescent and nursing homes. She also is urging churches with buses to consider transporting groups of participants to the church grounds for the afternoon affair.

Those persons wishing further information about the church service and picnic can contact Mrs. Klein at the Helping Hand Thrift Shop, or by calling 941-5323.

Driving plus crashes becomes new 'sport'

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman Staff Writer

America's favorite pass-time—driving—combined with its largest by-product—collisions—has been turned into a "sport" which can be viewed Sunday at the Wayne County 4-H Fairgrounds in Van Buren Township.

Residents from throughout the area who have honed their skills at avoiding collisions on local highways, can use those skills during a Demolition Derby beginning at 7 p.m.

According to promoter Elwood Hall, a resident of Sumpter Township, better than 50 cars, running in at least five "heats" will attempt to avoid being hit while trying to inflict damage on their opponents during the competition.

"It's a simple game," Hall said. "The last car running wins."

Autos used in the competition are specially designed to stand the stress of several minutes "under the gun" from drivers of other vehicles.

All glass is removed, doors are welded or wired shut, and gas tanks are moved out of the "line of fire" to prevent injuries and fires.

Drivers are required to wear helmets and are strapped into their vehicles during competition.

"Because of the nature of the competition, we take precautions to ensure driver safety in the event," Hall said. "The Sumpter Township Fire Department has agreed to stand by at the scene to assist should there be a fire, and the Taylor Ambulance Company (which operates services for Belleville and Romulus residents), will have a stand-by unit at the fairgrounds.

Admission to the "derby", which isn't a part of the annual 4-H Fair, held at the fairgrounds this week, is $2.50 per adult, $1 for children aged 6-12 and free for children under five years of age.

A special event will be featured during which women will attempt to inflict their own brand of pain during the "powder puff" portion of the main event.

As could be expected, automobiles used in the event are not finely tuned machines, but junkers which can stand the punishment.

No one vehicle is certified as "best suited" for the competition, since each is vulnerable to strategic "strikes", as any driver of the freeways knows if he's been involved in an accident.

Like stock car racing, demolition derbies are "big" in both the southern and southwestern states. However, unlike stock car races, manufacturers haven't flocked to the events to sponsor "entries".

Part of the reason may be that after the event, the winning "entry" can't be carted around for display at shopping malls like Johnny Rutherford's winning entry in the Indy 500, or David Pearson's entry in the Daytona 500.

But, there's hope for enthusiasts. With the growing emphasis on making "crash safe" vehicles for the highways, there is a potential competition among manufacturers for the "derby tested" car of the year.

Citizens study ramification of Willow Run ownership

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman Staff Writer

While community officials take "time off" from the Willow Run Airport ownership question, citizens of the area are busy studying the impact of obtaining an airport by a local agency.

The Concerned Citizens which have been studying the ramifications of obtaining ownership of Willow Run Airport, will be meeting tonight at 8 p.m. with Arthur Chambers, manager of the Grosse Ile Airport.

Chambers will discuss the transfer of the one-time Grosse Ile Naval Airbase to the Township of Grosse Ile.

The Concerned Citizens invited Chambers to the meeting, to be held at the Van Buren Township Hall, in an effort to study means to avoid "rough spots" in the transfer of ownership of the airport to a local agency.

However, as the citizens study, their elected leaders have slowed their pace on the Willow Run Joint Airport Board (WRJAB).

According to Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer, the meeting pace for the WRJAB has been slowed by "political campaigns and vacations."

"While I'd like to get moving on forming some plans of action to broaden the membership of the board from just Van Buren and Ypsilanti townships, it has been difficult to find time to get together, since members of the board are just finished campaigning for office, and are taking it easy for a time."

however, since he knows what it is like to campaign for office.

"We expected the hull during the election campaigns," he said. "It will probably continue until November."

Gollwitzer has more time to work on the airport question than his counterparts because for the first time in six years he isn't campaigning for office. He's retiring in November.

"It doesn't mean that no one on the board has any concerns other than the election right now," Gollwitzer said. "We're still interested in ap proaching Canton Township about becoming a member, and I see a potential for such communities as Northville Township and Plymouth Township becoming interested, since they're under flight paths to Willow Run Airport."

Moves to boost membership also will have to wait until after November, since primary elections this month resulted in defeats for some incumbents, and will result in new members on township boards.

"Some attitudes could change with the change in leaders," Gollwitzer said. "We're hoping that new leaders will share our concern for the control over the Willow Run Airport."

This week's Mart also should feature some displays by local Scouting groups.

"We're looking for displays of handicrafts or skills by both boys and girls who are in the Scouting movement," Mrs. Hoffman said. "There will be no charge for space."

Should any local Boy Scout Troop, Cub Scout Pack, Girl Scout Troop or Brownie Scout Troop wish to display handicrafts or show its skill, it should contact Mrs. Hoffman at 941-0598 to make arrangements.

Next week's Mart will be the last in the summertime series.

The Mart will feature a performance of the Romulus Bicentennial Choir, made up of local residents.

Janet Darnell is organizer of next week's activity.

Beverly McNally is chairman of the Community Mart Committee.

Van Buren Park: Site of company gathering

A Canton Township-based auto parts distributor, celebrating 50 years in business, held its annual picnic in Van Buren Park.

Westside Auto Parts, one of the largest warehouse distributors of auto parts in Michigan, held its annual employee picnic Aug. 8 in the Van Buren Park in Van Buren Township.

Better than 100 employees and their families and friends attended the picnic, which featured games for both adults and youngsters in attendance.

Winners among the younger set of competitors included Ron Smolen, 10, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Smolen of Van Buren Township. The Smolen youngster was declared the "overall winner" and received four prizes in competition which included such events as the shotput, javelin throw and egg toss. Included in the prizes given Ron was a digital watch.

The second-place overall winner of the competition in the youngster division was Mike McWilliams, son of Westside Vice-President Jim McWilliams. The McWilliams youngster won a digital watch.

Adult winners in the egg toss competition included Mike Zeja and Stacy Sailus, the first-place couple, who received a power saw and digital clock radio respectively;

George Sauer and Linda Vega, the second-place couple, who won a power drill and slow cooker respectively; and Larry Rice and Diana Moriarty, the third-place couple, who won a picnic cooler and hair dryer respectively.

The picnic was sponsored by Marv Mazur, president of the 50-year-old warehousing operation.

Westside Auto Parts operates three warehouses including the Canton Township headquarters. Other outlets are located in Warren and Detroit.

The warehouse is located at 41821 Michigan Avenue, Canton.

MD Telethon seeks 3,000 local volunteers

More than 3,000 volunteers from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties are needed to answer telephones and record pledges during the 1976 Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy.

The telethon will be telecast on WJBK-TV Channel 2 in the Detroit metropolitan area from 9 p.m. Sept. 5 through 6:30 p.m. Sept. 6.

Volunteers who are 18 years of age and older will be asked to report to the Jerry Lewis Telephone Center nearest their homes for a 5-hour shift of their choice.

Telephone centers will be located in the Northland, Eastland, Mt. Clemens, Pontiac, Westland-Dearborn and City of Detroit areas, with a total of 700 phones in operation during the telethon.

Those wishing to help at any area telephone center as either a phone answerer or as a clerical helper, may register by calling the telethon headquarters at 399-8805.

All proceeds from the telethon go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association, which provides diagnosis, clinical treatment, therapy, wheelchairs, braces and other services free of charge to dystrophy patients. Funds raised also support medical research into Muscular Dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases, all of which as yet are incurable.

'Bank' aids ill

The American Cancer Society has opened a wig bank at Farwell Hair Designs of Farmington for cancer patients suffering from temporary hair loss.

Wigs, wiglets and hairpieces for men, women and children are available at little or no cost, depending on the needs of the individual, at the shop, located at 27432 W. Eight Mile Road.

The owner of the salon, Doug Farwell, has donated free space for the bank which will recycle donated wigs and have discounts on new wigs for those patients who have lost their hair while undergoing treatment.

An experienced consultant will work with patients in private booths at the salon.

For further information on the wig bank service, contact the American Cancer Society at 336-0030.

Loss of the first blossoms on your squash and pumpkins is no cause for alarm. Michigan State University horticulturists point out that the first blossoms on these plants are male flowers that do not grow into fruit. Female flowers develop a little later, along with additional male flowers for pollination.

Two sheriff deputies garner promotions

Two veteran Wayne County Sheriff officers recently were promoted to the rank of lieutenant during ceremonies held at the department's training academy.

Promoted to the new rank were Paul Benyo and Frederick Reiman Jr. Benyo joined the department in 1964 after nine years on the Detroit Police force, while Reiman joined the Sheriff's Department in 1964.

Benyo, who lives with his family in Belleville, until 1973 saw duty in jail security, as patrol officer, in the patrol and investigation division, as patrolman investigator, at Detroit Metropolitan Airport and as marine enforcement officer in the water patrol.

In 1973 he was promoted to the rank of sergeant and served as a supervisor in the jail division and airport security bureau. In 1974 he was transferred to the Metropolitan Narcotic Squad where he served as executive sergeant.

During his 20 years in law enforcement, Benyo has earned five citations from the Detroit Police Department and one from the Sheriff's Department and has attended 16 inservice police training schools.

Reiman during his 11 years on the department has served at the Wayne County Jail, in the patrol and investigation division and in the marine division during the summer months.

In the latter unit Reiman worked with Benyo on the Detroit River from Detroit to Flat Rock and on Belleville Lake.

In 1968 with the retirement of the Marine Division's command officer, Reiman was promoted to acting sergeant in charge, receiving his permanent promotion in 1971. He has been in command of that division for the past eight years.

Reiman has served as liaison officer of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary to the Michigan Marine Sheriffs and for the U.S. Power Squadron on Grosse Ile.

He is past president of the Metropolitan Detroit Safe Boating Council area instructor of the Summer Marine Deputies Program and in the annual Michigan Marine Training School.

Lt. Reiman lives with his family in Livonia. Following their promotions by Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas, Benyo was assigned to the Detroit House of Correction as shift commander of the sheriff's detention area and Reiman has been assigned commander of the Marine Division.

Veterans' poppy program must not be scuttled

For 54 years veterans' organizations have been selling paper poppies throughout America.

Since 1922 the poppy program has been carried out solely on a voluntary basis with all compensation going to the veteran patients who make the paper flowers.

Now the heavy hand of the federal government is about ready to impose regulatory controls that would surely spell the program's doom.

The Civil Service Commission has indicated that the application of minimum wage requirements and administrative procedures of the Fair Labor Standards Act may be forthcoming.

But there is hope—that is, if Congress accepts an amendment introduced by Sen. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.).

His proposal, co-sponsored by 30 senators and strongly backed by the Veterans Administration, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, would exempt the poppy program from threatened imposition of federal minimum wage laws.

The legislation would permit disabled veterans in hospitals across the country to continue to assemble and sell paper poppies—the memorial flower for American war dead.

The poppy program dates back to World War I. The poppy, associated in memory with the bitter fighting on the Western Front in that war, is the symbol of a program which honors the dead of various American wars and also honors the living victims of those wars—the permanently disabled.

Since that time thousands of veterans convalescing in VA hospitals have volunteered to make the paper poppies, which veterans' organizations sell to benefit the patients and their families.

The hand-made flowers sold on the streets provide therapeutic benefits for participating veteran patients as well as a sense of personal accomplishment.

In many instances the piece work rate which is paid to veterans assembling the poppies already equals or meets fair labor standards requirements. There have been no administrative costs.

"The poppy program should be encouraged—not terminated by the heavy hand of government," insists Griffin.

We heartily agree. To impose such requirements on the poppy program can only victimize veterans—not protect them.

Griffin, himself an Army veteran of World War II, should be applauded for his humanitarian efforts on behalf of disabled veterans everywhere.

Leaders needed for Girl Scouts

MORE THAN 3,000 men and women in Washtenaw, Livingston and Western Wayne counties are working without pay and enjoying it! They are volunteer Girl Scout leaders and assistant leaders. Some of them are right here in our community.

They're doing it because they're convinced, as we are, that time and energy spent with youth today can pay off tomorrow.

Besides, they're having fun!

They're working on projects and ideas—and learning as much from the girls as the girls learn from them.

They're contributing something of value by helping girls grow toward a more self-reliant, joyous productive adulthood.

And they're adding to their own lives. The leadership training they receive as volunteers carries over into everything else they do. They gain poise, assurance, self-confidence, the ability to communicate effectively—all valuable skills in the job market and in their daily living.

These volunteers would like you to join them. While they're doing a good job with the girls already in Scouting, they worry about the many more girls 6 through 17 who long to be Scouts but who cannot because there aren't enough leaders to go around.

All kinds of people are needed—young singles to senior citizens. Whoever you are, whatever you do, you have something to offer Girl Scouts—your genuine interest in girls and a little of your spare time.

Why not help a youngster to be a Girl Scout by becoming a Girl Scout yourself? Get in touch with the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council in Ypsilanti at 483-2370. You'll be glad you did.

On the brighter side

Depressed? Try a little humor

By JIM BRADLEY
Pastor, Fair Haven Baptist Church

HUMOR IS THE SAFETY valve of life.

It's the sugar that helps the medicine go down, the foam rubber that softens the blows we all face daily. Everyone would do well to develop a sense of humor. But certain professions, due to the extreme seriousness of their work, find it especially helpful to look at the lighter side of life.

"A good thing for a minister to have up his sleeve is an over-size funny bone," a retired minister once said. Unfortunate and handicapped indeed is that person who takes himself too seriously.

I was discussing humor recent with Bob Millar, a good friend of mine and a licensed lay preacher at Wayne's First Congregational Church. Bob's also one of the leading administrators at Lent's Funeral Home (I forget his official title). Anyway, the point I want to make is that Bob is a minister and a mortician, two of the more serious professions in the world.

Nonetheless, Bob has a delightful sense of humor that is reflected in his jovial disposition and ready witticisms everytime I see him. His appearance is exactly the opposite of the staid image usually applied to ministers and funeral directors. In fact, Bob with his teeth gleaming in perpetual smile and witty comments would make a good stand-up comedian. (Except that he has a hard time standing up).

Anyway, before I drift too far afield, let me get to the heart of this discourse. Which is finding something humorous in an otherwise somber situation. Which Bob Millar does with unrelenting regularity.

"I'll never forget one dear minister," Bob recalls, "who could pray away rain everytime he had a funeral. This was many years ago when we used to pick up preachers and bring them to the funeral home for the service. It never rained when he conducted the funeral."

"One day, however," Bob continued, "it was pouring rain when I picked him up and he had neither raincoat or umbrella when he got in the car. 'Aren't you afraid of getting wet?' I asked him.

"It's not going to rain during the funeral," the minister replied. 'I've prayed that it wouldn't.'"

Well, it poured until Bob and his passenger got to the funeral home. Then it stopped completely until they were safe inside and then rained all during the 20 minute service. Then, just as if someone had shut off a faucet, the rain stopped again, the sun came out and the graveside ceremony was conducted in nice weather.

"I noticed that every time he prayed for the rain to stop, it would," Millar recalled. "So I asked him a favor. 'Our relatives from all over the state get together once a year for two days to play golf, eat together and have a good time. Would you pray that we'll have a couple nice days with no rain?'"

"'Sorry,' the minister said dryly, 'I can't do anything for golfers.'"

"That's when he lost me!" Millar admits.

But that's not the end of the story about the minister who could pray rain away.

"Sometime later I picked him up for another funeral," Millar continued, "and the skies were black with dark clouds. My wife asked me why I was wearing my good suit on such a threatening day. I told her that this certain minister was preaching the funeral and there wasn't a chance of it raining since he would pray the clouds away."

"While I was getting the cars ready for the procession, the skies opened up and I got soaked to the skin from the pouring rain. This was in the old days when suits really shrank and later I stood by the grave in pants that has shriveled a good three inches up my leg. I looked skyward and said: 'Lord, teach me the value of unanswered prayer.'"

In the midst of lives clouded with disappointments and our dreams shriveled far short of our aspirations, we can look up and say: "Lord, teach me the value of a sense of humor."

As they see it

Carter platform taken apart

To the editor:

All of a sudden the media and people are speaking of Jimmy Carter as if he were the Messiah. From what Mr. Carter says he, too, thinks he is the Messiah and he is going to "deliver" us from whatever ails us.

First of all, he says he'll clean up the bureaucratic mess in Washington in four years. HOGWASH! He might be a Democrat and have a Democrat-controlled Congress, but the Democrat-controlled Congress established the bureaucratic mess in Washington beginning in 1933 and it has been going on ever since. Oh, they'll have a "honeymoon" for awhile but when he starts messing around with all those agencies in our nation's Capitol there will be a hue and cry like this nation has never heard.

Mr. Carter likes the 3 percent jobless ceiling established by the Humphrey-Hawkins bill. If he gets the bill passed, that will add another $40-$60 billion to the federal budget annually. The bill is another make-work program that will create more inflation and higher taxes. Mr. Carter is in favor of a mandatory health program. Who's gonna pay for it? The same taxpayers who are footing most of the bills right now. He says the employers will pay half the costs. So all that means is that companies will raise their prices to cover any increases in their taxes. They have to or they couldn't stay in business or come close to creating any additional jobs.

And heaven help us all, Mr. Carter is in favor of breaking up the 18 largest oil companies, and just at the time when those companies need our government's support and incentives to go out and find more oil. If the people of this nation don't believe prices of oil and oil-related products will go out of sight, just take a look at European countries who import most of their oil and oil products. Of course, he could slap price controls on the oil companies but that will only keep them from drilling more or finding more oil and make us further dependent on the Arab cartel. He is in favor of controlling oil imports. How? By rationing? He hasn't said.

Mr. Carter is in favor of land use controls. The "Messiah" will tell you what you can do with your property and when. He is such a peace-loving man he is also in favor of gun controls, that is, for anyone with a record. What kind of record? He doesn't say.

The people of this nation should begin questioning their legislators and the presidential nominees on how they plan for the people to pay for all the good things they plan to "give" us. It is always the people who pay through the nose whether taxes are placed directly on people or on business. The tax-paying public needs to question each and every give-away program and its economic impact. THERE AIN'T NO FREE LUNCH! The taxpayer pays and pays and pays! Always!

Restoration of city hospital urged

To the editor:

City of Belleville, why no hospital?

Dr. Alford wanted the people of this community to have a hospital and he once did something about it.

Now it seems there must be someone who cares enough to get the ball rolling and do something about this idle building when it could be so effectively put to use. Namely back to the hospital it was meant to be.

Why not, you City of Belleville? Why don't you purchase or at least back the purchasing of this hospital?

It is my understanding that you could if you wanted to.

I'm sure you do care enough for your people to want to do something really constructive for them. We need the hospital and it would produce some employment for a lot of people whom I'm sure really need it.

You don't need to be the last of the big spenders and even consider investing millions of dollars on a new facility we don't need when you could have one for a fraction of the cost, approximately one million dollars.

Why don't you do us all a favor and invest the three quarter of a million it would take to purchase this building that is already here and the quarter of a million to put it back into operating condition?

We the people of Belleville need a hospital now and I think it's up to you, City, to see that we get it. It's right here in your dooryard. How about it?

Hospital reopening is sought

To the editor:
As a resident of Romulus, I would very much like to see the Belleville Hospital reopened. Why should we have to go to Wayne or Ypsilanti

LET'S HEAR IT FOR A HOSPITAL!

Mrs. Laurel D. Roberts,
Belleville

WHY?

I do not hear his footsteps now.
In this life I walk alone.
It's such a lonely life somehow.
And home just is not home.

Down this dusty road I trod.
I'm tired and can't go too far.
And I'm praying to your God.
Send back the one I love.

I often look around here and see the work he's done.
Oh, I wish that he was near,
for many more reasons than one.

He often said, "I love you and you are mine alone."
But the years were, oh, so few for him to come on home.

I do not have an easy task to go on in life alone.
I wanted a marriage that would last

and a hubby to always come home.

In my dreams he holds me tight.
I'm happy when I'm asleep.
As when I'm with him things are right.
And I tell ya' I love him deep.

Then I wake up and remember the day that he laid in that casket so still.
God, what did I do that You're making me pay.
When I've tried to do Thy will.

I've had troubles and trials to bare.
But I could conquer them all.
But taking my hubby just wasn't fair.
'Cause all of my world did fall.

Poetry Corner

THE END OF THE BEGINNING.

He would bring me clusters of violets.
So soft and so lovely.
His beautiful smile, while giving them to me.
Both very wonderful.
He was so proud of himself.
Violets everyday.
He said they made him think of a song.
A song of me.
His sweetness made me love him.
And he loved me.
We spent hours together, talking of us.
Later he stopped bringing me
violets.
And I missed him so.
The softness and loveliness are gone.
Because he has gone.
He had his reasons and rights I understood.
But it is sad something so great had to end.
It's only been weeks, yet it seems like years.

...Today I heard that song.
That song of me.
And I found a bouquet of roses at my doorstep.
With his smile.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Konot, of Belleville, were blessed for only a short time with a baby girl. She was born July 22 at 3:09 p.m. weighing only 1 pound 7 ounces. God took her home July 22 at 11:59 p.m. Here is a poem especially for their darling daughter.

Elizabeth Dorjena Konot.
A special gift our precious girl.
So tiny yet so real.
She's gone away to heaven now,
God's choice is best we feel.
Though only with us a short while,
Not long enough it seems.
She's in our hearts eternally,
Forever in our dreams.

Mondale 'milk caper' is ignored by press

By PATRICK J. BUCHANAN
New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Carter-Mondale, the love-and-compassion ticket, has made clear its intention to force-march America through the Watergate swamp, if that road leads to the White House. If John Connally is on the Republican ticket, suggests Jimmy, "public trust" will become an issue.

The cloud that supposedly hangs over the silver locks of the former treasury secretary is, of course, his dealings indirectly with the nation's milk producers — a matter for which Mr. Connally was indicted, and of which he was acquitted. But before Mr. Carter tables the matter of milk money, he might have a heart-to-heart with his vice-presidential choice, Walter Mondale. People who live in glass houses, etc.

Briefly, let us review the history of the milk decision, which brought such subsequent grief to the Nixon White House.

In early March of 1971, the Nixon Administration announced it would not raise the milk support price from about 80 percent to 85 percent of parity. Refusal to do so meant potential loss of hundreds of millions of dollars to U.S. milk producers — similar savings for consumers.

When the negative decision was announced, the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. (AMPI), other dairy lobbyists, and their congressional allies mounted a ferocious campaign to overturn it. Legislation, sponsored by Sen. Walter Mondale and others, was introduced to overturn the decision.

About to be rolled, not anxious to have the Democrats get the credit and rewards, the Nixon White House reversed itself. Support prices were raised to 85 percent of parity: and the heavens opened and rained milk dollars on the Committee to Reelect the President.

House Judiciary saw fit to investigate the matter as possible grounds for impeaching the President of the United States. Wiser Democratic heads felt perhaps the matter was better left unexplored — in the public arena. What has barely seen the light of day, however, are other aspects of the same matter.

First, not all those milk dollars went into the coffers of CREEP. They were spread all over Capitol Hill. And 5,000 of them were used to purchase tickets to a June 5, 1971, fund-raiser for Sen. Walter Mondale. As a September, 1971, story in the Minneapolis Tribune reported, "The $5,000 subsequently given to Mondale was by far the largest single contribution to an individual listed in the current report of the AMPI fund."

Here, the plot thickens. Not only did AMPI shell out five grand for Mondale's feast, but two political agents, working on Mondale's behalf, apparently demanded, repeatedly, that the AMPI contribution be jacked up to $25,000. This is the allegation of Bob Lilly, political agent of AMPI, who wrote contemporaneous notes about the constant pressures he was under.

The two Mondale agents, named by Lilly as pressuring him for more dough, were Mike Berman, Mondale's campaign manager, and Ted Van Dyk, Washington consultant, Humphrey-McGovern Democrat with thick lines to the milk producers. According to Lilly, both Berman and Van Dyk, in their repeated solicitations of that $25,000, referred to a "promise" supposedly made directly to Mondale himself by dairy lobbyists in a face-to-face breakfast meeting in February or early March of 1971.

AMPI did not give the $25,000 to Mondale. However, that exact sum was deposited in July of 1971 with Valentine and Sherman Associates, a Minneapolis mailing operation with close ties to the Democratic Party.

These facts were revealed May 18, 1974, in a story by Tribune Washington correspondent Frank Wright. There was no follow-up by the national press, however. For that was three weeks after the release of the Nixon transcripts; and most of the national press boys were mounted and riding with the posse after you know who.

So, Mondale had his free ride. Congress conveniently and secretly cut the statute of limitations on campaign contribution violations from five to three years — saving a lot of the good ole boys a lot of embarrassment.

Questions arise. Did Mondale indeed get a "promise" from AMPI officials — and if so, what was Mondale's end of the bargain? The answers lie with Mondale, Berman and Van Dyk, whose memories on the matter have grown dim, and three agents of the milk producers with whom they dealt: Bob Lilly, Harold Nelson and Dave Paar. Woodward and Bernstein, where are you now?

Eugene McCarthy could be 1976 presidential surprise

By JEFFREY ST. JOHN
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "There are two political parties," observed former Minnesota senator and liberal Democrat Eugene McCarthy. "One elected Richard Nixon. The other couldn't beat Nixon twice. How long do you have to keep the country from having a choice?"

McCarthy made that dry humorous remark during a relaxed 45-minute interview with this columnist. He is the forgotten "independent" candidate for president who already is on the ballot in a dozen states. Gov. Wendell Anderson of McCarthy's home state claims "Carter-Mondale will win big. McCarthy will have no effect."

However, a Lou Harris poll in July shows that at the height of Jimmy Carter's visibility during the Democratic Convention, McCarthy had 10 percent of the vote.

"Well, 10 percent is significant," he told me, "if it's a valid statistic, because Wallace got about 10 percent in 1968 and that was a significant factor in the election. And I think that we'll get easily 25 percent, and if things break right we might get 33 percent, which is all one would need in a three-way race."

Is McCarthy blowing smoke in our face? No. As a matter of fact what enhances McCarthy's position is the finding by a Lou Harris study that Jimmy Carter's support nationwide is broad but not enthusiastic, particularly among liberals who are concerned over his use of religion and views toward the presidency.

"As I try to discern what Carter's conception of the presidency is," McCarthy said, "I find myself in quite complete disagreement. On the record he has supported the aggressive, somewhat Imperial Presidency of the past."

McCarthy, moreover, thinks that Carter's evangelistic political style is a throwback to the era of Divine Right of Kings, which we broke from 200 years ago this year with the Declaration of Independence.

"I think it's good for a president to assert some moral leadership," he says of Carter's call for a moral presidency, "but when he begins to talk about himself as being the one voice that can speak for the country, I think you've got to worry about him."

"I don't mind him trying to provide some moral leadership, but this is like Henry VIII, sort of; I'm the head of the Church and State both, and I am the moral leader, and I'm the voice. I never thought Nixon was my moral leader, and don't think Jimmy Carter speaks for me. I don't think he should say he speaks for the country."

It is an absolute certainty that McCarthy will not be sworn in as President in January, 1976. But McCarthy's independent presidential bid raises the very same threat that Wallace raised in 1968 and 1972: throwing the election into the House of Representatives! McCarthy concedes that this is a clear possibility.

"Well, that could happen; that's not too bad. We'll be on the ballot in 40 to 45 states," he adds. "If Harris says we're getting 10 percent, we're a force in terms of how the election goes. You see, both parties started out as though, if they could get the Wallace vote, you're going to win. It was almost as if they are running for president of the Confederacy. We hope to open it up and make them run for president of the United States."

The major theme for McCarthy in this regard is his standing argument about presidential power and the Washington establishment. McCarthy is expected to hit hard at the fact that Carter took up this theme, only to surround himself with former aides and advisors to John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson.

"There's a lot of power there," McCarthy says of the presidency. "I see no reason to believe that Jimmy Carter has any clear constitutional conception of the presidency any more than Richard Nixon did or Lyndon Johnson.

"I think in a democracy presidential power must be modest and controlled. Otherwise you begin to give those in power the attributes of a dictatorship, and once you do that, it's very difficult to get it back - as we discovered with both Johnson and Nixon."

We are laying money that Eugene McCarthy, Jimmy Carter's shadow, may turn out to be by November the surprise of the 1976 presidential election in a year already filled with surprises.

Bills would help senior citizens

By TOM OCHILTREE

Panax Washington Correspondent Rep. Bob Traxler, (D-Mich.) wants Congress to give prompt, favorable consideration to two measures he introduced to reduce inflationary pressures on senior citizens.

The first of these would amend the Social Security Act to provide that automatic cost-of-living adjustments in social security benefits would be made twice a year rather than once a year as at present.

"If adjustments were made twice a year the effects of inflation would be far less damaging to those citizens living on a fixed income," Traxler argued in remarks published in the Congressional Record.

In any event, he stressed, the mechanism for paying these cost-of-living increases should be "responsive to actual need," rather than being organized for the convenience of the administrators.

Traxler also argued in favor of establishing a separate Consumer Price Index for senior citizens, an idea that has been debated for many years.

"Older Americans as they advance in years tend to spend a larger, disproportionate percentage of their incomes on goods and services that are particularly subject to inflation, such as health care and utilities," he said.

Adjustments in social security income levels for older Americans should reflect this difference in spending patterns. And this could be done, he insisted, by having one price index for senior citizens and other for all other Americans.

Billing could hurt schools

A proposed telephone billing change that would increase the financial load on already hard-pressed local school districts is being opposed before the Michigan Public Service Commission by the Wayne County Intermediate School District.
The change sought by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. from a per call to a time-use basis would boost charges to local school districts for some telephone service by more than 1,000 percent.
The increase would be in the cost of telephone service which gives local school districts access to the Data Center operated by the Wayne County Intermediate School District for the benefit of all 36 local districts in the county.
Local districts have terminals in their own schools and offices from which they can dial — through regular telephone lines — the computers in the Data Center in Wayne. These calls now are billed at the standard per call business rate.
Changing to a timed rate would mean a increase in cost since these calls can go on for two hours or more, a district spokesman said. This is especially true when students are using the terminals for computer assisted instruction in which the computer presents the questions and checks the answers, the spokesman added.

"Computer assisted instruction is a fairly new educational approach that shows much promise and we would like to see it expanded," said Dr. William Simmons, superintendent of the Wayne County Intermediate School District. "If this new rate goes into effect, however, there will be fewer schools, not more, using the computers for instruction."
It also would be more expensive for school districts to use the computers for such administrative procedures as making payrolls and taking inventories.
Simmons said a check of the telephone charges of only one of the 36 local districts showed that in the 1975-76 school year the district had paid $765 for telephone service. Using the rate structure now being proposed by Michigan Bell, the same service would have cost $9,569, an increase of 1,149 percent.

Don't let bug spoil a picnic

Planning a picnic or camping trip? Ants aren't the only "bug" that can ruin your day.
A spokesman for the Wayne County Health Department said microscopic "bugs", called salmonella bacteria, may be growing wild in your picnic basket.

These tiny organisms are found naturally in many of the foods we all like to take on picnics: chicken, milk, potato salad, and other salads made with milk products or eggs. When these foods aren't kept refrigerated, properly, the salmonella germs multiply rapidly, and when eaten, may cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Although this bacterial infection normally is not serious in that it usually cures itself in 24 hours, it could spoil your whole day. If a picnicker does happen to get the bug, he or she should see a doctor.

To avoid food poisoning this summer be sure to refrigerate picnic food in an ice chest kept below 45 degrees Fahrenheit. This will prevent the growth of most harmful bacteria which cause food-related illnesses. Using salad dressings which do not contain egg products is another way of avoiding the problem, so be sure to read the label before buying supplies for your outing.

Nanci Baker is bride

Third generation wears heirloom gown

MRS. ALBERT KURTZ JR

Nanci Baker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Baker of 46750 Michigan Ave., Canton Township, was the third generation of her family to wear the white batiste wedding gown which had been made for the June, 1908 ceremony of her grandmother, the late Mrs. Anna Neubert. The dress was worn for the second time in 1943 when her mother, Mrs. Baker, was married.

The garden orchard of the bride's aunt and God-mother, Mrs. Madeline Threadgould of Canton, was the setting for the 5 p.m. nuptials which made Nanci the wife of Albert Kurtz Jr. of Three Rivers. For the occasion a white rose trellis decorated with gladiolas, snapdragons, asters, plants and vines along with a small white picket fence were used as the background for the service. The Rev. Walter Henning presided at the single ring rite before some 70 relatives and friends.

Leslie Hahn, a classmate of the bride from Bronson Hospital Nursing School, and Charles Skardarsky provided music for the ceremony.

The bride's heirloom gown was designed with a long flared skirt of fine tucking inset with bands of lace. The blouse, made with a lace-edged peplum, featured a high lace neckline with rows of tiny lace forming an oval on the bodice and three-quarter sleeves accented with matching lace.

Her headgear was comprised of a half-circle of fresh white daisies and baby's breath which matched those used with white roses to form her little round hand bouquet which was tied with white streamers.

With her ensemble the bride wore a small gold heirloom chain watch which had been the gift of her grandmother on her 18th birthday.

As her sister's only attendant, Diane Palumbo of Ann Arbor, donned a pale blue cotton polyester gauze dress trimmed with white eyelet triangle tabs on the bodice, on the long sleeves and at the neckline. Her accessories included a white eyelet bonnet and hand bouquet of white and blue daisies, mums and baby's breath.

The two flowergirls, Jennifer Palumbo of Ann Arbor and Jamamah Baker of Benton Harbor, wore little blue frocks in a style similar to Mrs. Palumbo's with white eyelet pinafore overdrresses. They, too, wore white eyelet sun-bonnets and carried baskets filled with multi-colored bachelor buttons.

The bridegroom, the son of the late Albert and Loretta Kurtz of St. Louis, Mo., asked David Hahn of Sturgis to serve as best man. Michael Baker of Benton Harbor was usher at his sister's wedding and a nephew, James Palumbo of Ann Arbor, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, the bride's mother received in a long polyester and cotton voile gown in beige, brown, grey and rose tones with beige lace accents. The bridegroom's sister, Terry Leonard of Eureka, Mo., greeted guests in a pale blue jacket dress. Both were presented with corsages of carnations and roses.

Also wearing a special corsage was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sophia Baker of Rogers City, who donned a long teal blue gown for the occasion.

The dinner reception took place under a tent set in the garden of the Threadgould home on Michigan Avenue.

A graduate of John Glenn High School in 1973, the new Mrs. Kurtz attended Eastern Michigan University and currently is a student of nursing at Bronson Hospital in Kalamazoo. She is employed part-time at Sturgis Hospital in Sturgis where her husband works for the Olson Co. He is a 1970 graduate of Roosevelt High School in St. Louis, Mo.

The newlyweds are now making their home on Wilbur Road in Three Rivers.

Volunteers being recruited by HV Girl Scout Council

Free training, community service, outdoor recreation: these job benefits are now being offered to volunteers by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council in its fourth annual recruitment drive being conducted August 16 to September 15.

The organization now serving over 17,000 girls annually in 600 troops in Washtenaw, Livingston, Western Wayne and Northern Monroe counties is seeking to enlist an additional 70 troop leaders, 65 assistant troop leaders and 14 volunteer supervisors called troop service directors.

Father of girls, mothers of boys, husband and wife teams, career women and parents are invited to apply, according to Huron Valley president Mrs. Frances Bauer of Plymouth.

"One of the most valuable things Girl Scouting offers its adult members is training," Mrs. Bauer said. "Many people I talk to feel that to join you have to know how to build a campfire, or paddle a canoe. That's nonsense. Everything one needs to know to do his job well, we teach you."

Free courses in outdoor and program skills, and group organization, child development, and methods for fostering girl initiative are taught by psychologists, group dynamics specialists and experienced Girl Scout adults. During the 1976-77 school year, 62½ hour training sessions are planned for new leaders and 12 special interest sessions for advanced leaders. Volunteers also have training from support teams of other volunteers, Council staff members and parents. "No one ever works alone," Mrs. Bauer emphasized.

Qualification for positions as troop leaders or assistant leaders include good health, an interest in girls and a schedule which permits one weekly meeting plus preparation time, a monthly conference with other neighborhood troop leaders, and training courses of one's choice. Having transportation is also helpful although most troop assignments are made by neighborhood.

Leaders are assigned by preference to Brownie Girl Scout troops (age 6 to 8) of up to 15 girls; Junior Girl Scout troops (age 9 to 11) of up to 20 girls; Cadette Girl Scout troops (age 12 to 14), and Senior Girl Scout troops (age 15 to 18) of up to 25 girls.

Prospective troop service directors are required to have an interest in and talent for management and adult guidance. Troop service directors are responsible for recruiting, assisting and counseling adult leaders for 5 to 10 troops for assigning girls to troops and for acting as liaison between the Huron Valley Council and community organization of the area.

Individuals interested in learning more about these positions may call the Huron Valley Council at 483-2370 or write to Box 539, Ypsilanti, Mich.

chapters and Belleville in attendance.

Enrollment was held in honor of Belleville's new star recorder, Fern Koeppel. The two candidates enrolled were Mrs. Thora DePas and Mrs. Jacqueline Marsh.

Matilda Wilson, past member of the board of Academy of Friendship of Coldwater, was guest speaker. Incoming Deputy Grand Regent, Marion Friend of Kalamazoo, also gave a speech.

Refreshments were served after the meeting closed.

A retirement party was held July 30 for co-worker, Catherine Cooker. Dancing and a buffet dinner were enjoyed by the many guests in attendance.

The business meeting will be held Aug. 23 at 8 p.m.

Co-workers are urged to help, in any way, the chairman of their committee. Co-operation is the key word to success.

Twin boys added to Ladach clan

A new "twin bill" is playing these mid-summer days at the Romulus home of Jerome and Sylvia Ladach of 34194 McBride.

The couple welcomed twin sons Aug. 7 at Annapolis Hospital and named them Brian James and Kevin Paul. Brian's weight was recorded at 3 lbs. - 7 ozs. and his brother's at 2 lbs. - 14 ozs.

The Ladachs have two other sons, Michael who's 6-years-old, and Scott, who's two.

Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilke of Garden City and Mrs. Agnes Ladach of Dearborn Heights.

Meaghers hold reunion at Venoy-Dorsey Park

A Belleville couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Leckemby, were among those attending the Meagher family reunion held Aug. 7 in the Venoy-Dorsey Park of the Lower Rouge Park system.

The entire family turned out for the event including the 40 great-grandchildren of Mrs. Helen Meagher of Westland and the late Dan Meagher. Also present were the Meagher's eight daughters and one son as well as 50 grandchildren.

Staged by Roger and Therese Goudeseune of Westland, the group enjoyed a day of baseball, men and women tug-of-war contests, card games and other activities. Dinner was potluck style with each family providing a dish to pass.

Besides the Leckembys, the other Meagher children and their spouses attending included Ola Raupp, Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Baker and the Goudeseunes, all of Westland; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Birch of Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Willis of Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. James Meagher of Danville, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Covert of Garden City.

Quotes worth quoting--

"People get shafted because they believe it is not permissible to stand up for their rights. It all begins with child rearing. You're taught to be civil, not make a fuss, not embarrass other people. It's a hard mold to break out of."

David Klein, MSU professor, said it.

DON'T POLLUTE! The land you save may be your own!

TALKING IT OUT with Harold Rediske UHT Memorial Funeral Home

The Condolence Call, some guidelines

When a close friend or relative dies, you may not even think twice about making a condolence call on the bereaved; you just do it. You do so simply to express your sympathy and console the bereaved, offering assistance however best you can.

There are some logical "do's and don'ts" of which you may or may not be aware. This checklist may serve as a helpful guide.

1. If you're not really sure whether you should make the call or not, then do it. They're bound to appreciate it.
2. Remember, the purpose of the call is to express sympathy and offer assistance. Don't make it a long "social" event or a fashion showcase for your wardrobe.
3. Make the visit short. Fifteen minutes is enough, unless the bereaved want you to stay longer.
4. Dress neatly, tastefully; not necessarily in somber shades or mourners' black.
5. If the bereaved wish to talk, fine. Be a good listener!
6. A simple "I'm sorry about (father, mother, etc.) is appropriate, accompanied by a firm handclasp or brief embrace.
7. Leave after offering to help or after performing whatever help you may have been asked to do.
8. Call back in a few days, again offering your aid. That's when the bereaved may especially appreciate your thoughtfulness.

This is one of a series of brief articles I hope will be helpful. We welcome questions in private or publicly through this column.

Greca clan marks half-century reunion

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Members of the Greca family gathered for their half-century reunion Aug. 7 in New Boston where the day began with a mass of thanksgiving celebrated by the Rev. Raymond S. Skoney of Belleville at St. Stephen's Catholic Church. Nearly 200 relatives were on hand for the potluck dinner which followed. Ann Greca Bayman traveled the farthest, having come especially for the occasion from San Antonio, Tex. Her son-in-law, Joseph Sanchez, a General Motors executive, shared distance honors with her since he was in Birmingham from San Palos, Brazil and managed to squeeze in a few hours to be with his wife's family.

The eldest woman present was 80-year-old Helen Bloedel of Detroit with Joe Greca of St. Helen taking the men's honor at age 78. Four-months old Brian J. Cotner, the son of Jerry and Emily (Greca) Cotner of Ypsilanti, was found to be the youngest in attendance.

Mabel Greca of Belleville also earned a special accolade in that she had attended 49 of the 50 annual reunions. Her daughter and son-in-law, Maureen and Dick Limoli and family of Spring Valley, N. Y. were among those attending from out of state.

Others were from Chicago, Ill., Pinconning, Lansing, Newberry, Monroe, Carleton, Romulus, Newport, St. Helen, Westland, Galien, Saline, Detroit and Belleville.

This year's plans were made by the direct descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Meitz Greca and included Rosemary Koenig of Caseville; Edith Manor of Monroe; Don of Belleville; Richard of Carleton; Al of Romulus and Ann Jaworski of Newport who had the help and support of their respective mates and families in carrying out the details.

Of special interest to the group was the 3 by 12 foot plaque bearing the family tree which Mr. and Mrs. Don Greca Jr. of Saline had constructed for the clan. The "tree", done in red, white and blue to commemorate the Bicentennial year, listed 436 direct descendants, 34 of whom are deceased. Members of the Kreyger, Richardson, Chapp, Bushey, Bloedel, Cook and Kleinhans families were included along with the Grecas.

Another surprise for the group was the family coat of arms, a 16 by 18 inch shield designed and made by Don Greca Jr., Ed Greca and Tony Greca. Rosemary Koenig and her family put together a collage of family reunion photographs centered with a letter of congratulations from Governor William Milliken on the group's 50th year celebration.

Browns reunited

Some 76 members of Capt. and Mrs. Howard Brown's family held a reunion June 25 at the Walter Pych home on Haggerty Road, Belleville.

Attending from out of state were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brown and family and Richard Brown of Sanford, N. C.; Mrs. Iris Paul and family of Bonne Terre, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown Jr. and family of Trenton, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Knight and family of St. Louis, Mo.

Sears clan meets

Some 60 relatives from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Jackson, Westland, Livonia, Flat Rock, Trenton, Southfield, New Boston, Belleville and the state of Kentucky traveled to Prospect Park in Ypsilanti Aug. 1 for the annual Sears family reunion.

Descendants of the late Anna Belle and George C. Sears brought their favorite dishes to pass and enjoyed games planned by Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew Sears of Ypsilanti. Mr. and Mrs. James B. Sears of Trenton will take charge of the 1977 get-together.

Those attending from Belleville included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schroeder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook and family. New Bostonites were Mrs. Florence Akans, Mrs. Donna Akans and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Akans.

'Big 3' for Billy

Three candles topped the clown cake which Billy Emerson's mom made especially at his request for his Aug. 10 birthday. Relatives sharing a barbeque lunch, cake and ice cream at the Martinsville Road home of Bill and Mary Anne Emerson included Billy's grandparents, Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sietz, all of Belleville; Dick and Grace Sietz with Whitney and Brad from Trenton; neighbors Kathy, Fran and Theresa Szuma and Rosemary Loria and son, Michael, all of Belleville.

Billy's new sister, Betsy, was just a wee bit young (at age 1-month) to take an active part in the celebration which continued at Farrell's in Briarwood Mall. That was where 12 of the group managed to devour the "zoo" — that monstrous confection which is served with the hoop-la of sirens blaring, drums beating and waiters and customers joining in "Happy Birthday."

Billy has among other things, a "big wheel" parked alongside his dad's car in the garage these days. Just give him another 15 years...

Award presented

Gregory V. Greubel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl O. Greubel Jr. of Belleville, concluded the camp season at Howe Military School Summer camp in Howe, Ind. by receiving an award in the junior division for dramatics.

The prize was presented by David Sell, camp director, at an awards banquet held Aug. 5 in the MAJ Merritt Dining Hall on the school's campus.

New York garden is setting for Chapo-Heil ceremony

The garden of her parents' home on Windermere Road in Lockport, N.Y. was the setting July 31 for the marriage of Elizabeth Ann Heil and Michael Stephen Chapo.

The Rev. Russell L. Shaffer

presided at the 6 p.m. rite which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Heil of Lockport and the son of Mrs. William S. Chapo of Romulus and the late Mr. Chapo.

A buffet reception followed at the Heil home with some 125 guests attending.

For her wedding day the bride chose to wear a flowing chiffon gown enhanced with French lace. The V-shaped bodice, capped above an empire waist, was attached to a filmy skirt designed with a handkerchief point hemline. Her white net picture hat was accented with illusion veiling and she carried a bouquet of pink roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Mrs. Randall Lobdell of Merrill, Mich., was honor attendant and Mrs. Lynn Durkee and Donna Norris, both of Lockport, the two bridesmaids. Their pink, blue and white print frocks were patterned with scoop necklines and ruffling around the bodices and hemlines. The trio carried white wicker baskets filled with colonial style blooms and tucked pink roses in their hair.

Daniel Chapo of Romulus was his brother's best man and groomsmen were Gary K. Selle of Detroit and Jerry McClain of Marion, Mich.

Since returning from their honeymoon in the Finger Lakes region of New York State, the newlyweds have taken up residence in Mt. Pleasant where the bridegroom currently is working toward his master's degree in environmental biology at Central Michigan University (CMU).

The new Mrs. Heil, a graduate of CMU, received her teaching certification last spring and will be returning to school in the fall for graduate work.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Chapo, was hostess at the rehearsal dinner in Lockport. Along with the bridal party and parents, guests included Thomas and Robert Heil of Lockport; Mr. and Mrs. William Chapo and daughter, Sara, of Omaha, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Chapo and son, Andrew, of New Boston, and Robin Breyer of Kalamazoo.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR SHEPHARD

Family, friends help to celebrate 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shephard marked their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 8, and began the day by attending morning services with their children at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville where flowers on the altar were a tribute to their special day.

Present for the occasion were their daughter and son-in-law, Diane and Roger Ferguson, and their three children, Leslie, Shawn and Shari; and their two sons, Jim and his wife, Pat, and their two youngsters, Daryle and Kimberly; and Brian.

The family then gathered at the Shephard home at 15796 Elwell Road for a potluck picnic at noon and a weiner roast at supertime. The group also helped Art celebrate his Aug. 4 birthday, enjoyed games and watched the honored pair open their gifts.

Others offering congratulations were Richard and Ivy Jahncke of Montrose; Jim and Marie Doser and family of Dexter; Fay and Mary Ferguson, Terri Ferguson, Bob Ferguson, Stan and Jennie Sliwa and Nancy Ostrowski.

Mrs. Shephard was Verdy's Jahncke when she exchanged vows Aug. 8, 1936 with her fiancé at the Methodist Church in Belleville.

Mr. Shephard is retired from the Van Buren Public School System which employs his wife as head cook at Elwell Elementary School. Besides their membership in the Methodist Church, the couple are affiliated with two square dance clubs, the Michigan Wandering Squares (a campers' group) and the Crackpot Squares of Belleville.

Artisans prepare exhibits for Plymouth Fall Festival

For the sixth consecutive year artisans from throughout the state will be gathering in Plymouth to take part in the Plymouth Fall Festival Arts and Crafts Show.

Sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) participation in the show is on an invitational basis, with artists asked to submit their work to be juried.

Plymouth Community School District students in kindergarten through the 12th grades also will be taking part in the show, which will be held at the Central Middle School, located on Church Street in Plymouth.

Exhibitors are encouraged to display their skills throughout the 2-day show, which will run from 12 to 9 p.m. Sept. 11 and from 12 to 7 p.m. Sept. 12.

The show last year attracted more than 8,000 festival goers.

PCAC is a service-oriented organization involved with both the schools and community, a council spokesman said. Its programs cover the performing arts in the school and both professional and non-professional and the presentation of art collections to both elementary and middle school children.

The organization's community involvement includes the continuous showing of art, sculpture and craftsmen at the Edison window, an art rental gallery, craft classes and participation in the fall festival through the arts and crafts exhibition.

The show has an admission fee of $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Adult Ed needs teachers

The Huron School District's expanding adult education program is in need of teachers for its evening high school completion program.

There are openings in all certified subject areas, with the requirement for employment a valid teaching certificate or possible certification (120 semester hours and 15 hours of education courses, either completed or presently enrolled).

All classes in the adult education program meet from 6:30 to 10 p.m. one night a week. Classes are held Monday through Thursday evenings.

Openings are available in Riverview, River Rouge, Lincoln, Huron, Woodhaven, Airport, Ecorse and Dearborn Heights No. 7 districts.

For further information, call Roger Benner, Community School Director, Huron Schools, 782-2441.

PWPs to recruit members

The Belleville Area Chapter of Parents Without Partners (PWP) is actively recruiting new members for the organization.

The group's general meetings are held on the second and fourth Fridays of the month, with its programs keyed to the various problems faced by the single parent. Many of the programs are planned for adults, but there also are activities for the children of single parents.

The Belleville Area PWPs recently joined with the Royal Oak and Allen Park chapters for a pot-luck picnic at Van Buren.

For more information on the Belleville Area Chapter of the PWP call 697-1371 or 697-7405.

Winter vows planned

The engagement of their daughter, Juanita Lee Butzin, to Robert James Marker is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Butzin of 17950 Vining Rd., Romulus. The bride-elect, a 1975 graduate of Huron High School, has reserved St. Stephen's Catholic Church in New Boston for the January, 1977 nuptial ceremony. The prospective bridegroom, who resides at 25702 Bretton Circle Dr.,

Flat Rock, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Marker of 426 Gibbs St., Caro, Mich. A Caro High School alumnus, he holds an associates degree in science from Lansing Community College. He works out of New Boston for the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation as a highway technician and surveyor.

Anniversaries in spotlight

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mrs. Vinton McAtee and daughter, Ruth, of West Columbia Avenue and Mrs. Hazel Bryan of Wabash Street attended a 51st wedding anniversary on Sunday, Aug. 8, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Al Pentz at their home in Fayette, Ohio.

On Sunday of last week Mrs. Helen White and son, James, were dinner guests of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gentry of Madison Heights, and called on the Dennis Gentry family at Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane were dinner guests of their children on Aug. 12 in celebration of their 36th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. William (Meryle) Gouger of Willis Road was able to leave Beyer Hospital, Ypsilanti, last Friday after having been a patient there for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street have had word from their daughter, Mrs. Arthur (Nancy) Tucholski of Chandler, Ariz., that she received her master of arts and education degree from Arizona State University at Tempe on July 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kidwell and family of Ellen Drive were guests last week of friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Bowersox at their summer cottage on Georgian Bay.

Donovan Partridge of West Huron River Drive has been a heart patient at Beyer Hospital for the past several days.

Mrs. Leon Boldt of Roland Street and her house guest, Mrs. Burton De Wese of Bowling Green, Ohio, attended an open house on August 8 honoring the former's aunt, Mrs. Myra Saffell, on her 80th birthday. The party was held at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murray of Ann Arbor.

Michael Hall, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hall of Borgman, is recovering at home after having been a patient at Beyer Hospital for a few days as the result of a fractured right elbow.

Members of the Western Wayne County Retired Teachers' Book Club met for their annual outing on Aug. 7 at the Cavanaugh Lake Cottage of Jennie Martin for a pot luck meal and a day of visiting and planning future events. It being Mrs. Martin's birthday, she was presented with a special cake made by Florence Renton.

A cooperative dinner and pleasant afternoon was held in the shade of the towering maples at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering on Aug. 8. Relatives enjoying the get-together were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Masak of South Lyon; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krajewski of West Bloomfield; Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lonsdale and daughter, Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lonsdale, Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Walnowski and Carl Krajewski, all of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schultz of Florida. Joining the group later in the day were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith with Sarah and James of E. Huron River Drive.

HGMA pools remain open until Sept. 6

There still is time for Western Wayne County residents to take a dip in the lake waters or pools of the Huron-Clinton metroparks.

At Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens, the Olympic-sized swimming pool is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, with the closing time set at 8 p.m. on weekends and holidays. The cost is 25 cents for children 12 years and under and 50 cents for adults.

The bathhouse and heated showers are free, however, the coin-operated lockers for clothes checking cost 25 cents.

Lifeguards are on duty when the pool is open.

Closing day for the swimming pool is Labor Day, Sept. 6.

Swimming in Lake St. Clair is available at the park daily, weather permitting, through September. The hours generally are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., or to dusk.

At Stoney Creek Metropark near Rochester and Utica both the Baypoint and Eastwood beach sites are open daily from 10 a.m. to dusk.

Showers and lockers also are available at the park, and lifeguards are on duty. There also is a first aid station at the park, where the swimming season will close Labor Day.

At Kensington Metropark near

Milford and Brighton both the Maple and Martindale beach sites along Kent Lake remain open daily from 10 a.m. to dusk. Heated, showers coin-operated lockers, lifeguards and a first aid station are available at the two swimming sites.

Swimming also will end there on Labor Day.

At Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville, swimming is available from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. weekends and holidays.

A bathhouse, heated showers, lockers, lifeguards and first aid station are part of the facilities located at the pool.

Swimming at Lower Huron Metropark will end Sept. 6.

Finally Willow Metropark near New Boston and Flat Rock has swimming from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. weekends and holidays at its Olympic-sized swimming pool.

Cost of using the pool is 25 cents for children 12 years and under and 50 cents for adults, the same fee scheduled used at Lower Huron.

Facilities at the park include Bathhouse, showers, coin-operated lockers, lifeguards, first aid station and swimming there will end on Labor Day.

Recreation send-off the Romulus High School, the show was to provide a different form of entertainment for youngsters involved in the community's yearly recreation program, organized by Recreation Director Marie DeBuyscher. —ANP photo.

Cities collect tax allotment

Fuel tax revenues are continuing to increase in Michigan, according to the State Highway Commission, however, second quarter disbursements to Western Wayne County communities showed a marked decrease over the second quarter of last year.

Receipts from state gasoline, diesel fuel and liquid petroleum gas totaled $101,767,466 in the 3-month period that ended June 30, up 5.6 percent from the comparable quarter of 1975.

According to the commission, partially offsetting the higher fuel tax collection in the April-through-June period was a decline in weight taxes, paid by motorists for license plates. Revenues totaled $24,377,047, down 13.2 percent over the same quarter of last year.

Fuel and weight taxes go into the Michigan Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, which is divided among the Department of State Highways and Transportation, 44.5 percent, the 83 county road commissions, 35.7 percent, and 531 incorporated cities and villages, 19.8 percent.

The breakdown on disbursement of the funds was $6,392,176 for Wayne County, down from $7,011,629 for the same period last year.

At the municipal level, the City of Belleville collected $7,816, down from $8,334; Garden City, $135,707, down from $144,546; Inkster, $120,768, down from $128,422; Romulus, $89,454, down from $94,693; Wayne, $68,052, down from $72,563, and Westland, $272,083, down from $289,658.

Aretha Franklin, Helen Reddy head lineup for State Fair

With a little more than a week before the opening day, organizers of the 1976 Michigan State Fair are finalizing preparations and readying for the arrivals of its star-studded entertainment lineup.

On tap for fairgoers this year will be the "Queen of Soul", Aretha Franklin, as well as the "Queen of Soft Rock", Helen Reddy, who will be joined by such notables as Natalie Cole, Freddie Fender, J. J. (Dyn-O-Mite) Walker, Boots Randolph, Tom T. Hall and his Storytellers and the Little Angels of Korea.

Two special thrill shows also have been scheduled for the 11-day long fair. A demolition derby as well as Jumping Joe Gerlach's Tournament of Daredevils will be two of three performances at the fair that will have admission charges. The other will be Miss Franklin's performance.

Also, as part of this year's emphasis on free fun at the State Fair, children 12 years of age and under will be admitted free at all times, if accompanied by an adult.

Entertainment

The schedule of free and paid performances is:

— Aug. 27, Tom T. Hall and his Storytellers and the demolition derby ($2).

— Aug. 28, The Spurrilows featuring Vicki Fletcher and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Aug. 29, Boots Randolph and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Aug. 30, Natalie Cole and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Aug. 31, Helen Reddy and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Sept. 1, The Spurrilows, The Sheffield and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Sept. 2, The Spurrilows, The Sheffield and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Sept. 3, Aretha Franklin ($3).

— Sept. 4, Freddie Fender.

— Sept. 5, J.J. (Dyn-O-Mite) Walker and the Tournament of Daredevils ($2 and $3).

— Sept. 6, the Little Angels of Korea and the demolition derby ($2).

The performances which have admission charges will be held at the State Fair Grandstand, while the free performances will be at the Music Shell.

The fair also has free shows by the Tripoli Steel Band, Bauer's International Circus and the Bicentennial Medicine Show for nearly everyday of the 11-day run. The opening parade of the fair will be held at 11:30 a.m. Aug. 26 in downtown Detroit.

DSO offers 'big band music'

The music of the Big Band Era, as played by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra (DSO), will inaugurate the orchestra's 3-day "Cabaret at Cobo" series this week.

Under the baton of the DSO's principal pops conductor, Richard Hayman, the three evening performances will be at 8:30 p.m. in the hall's Riverside Ballroom.

Tonight's program is being billed as "For the Whole Family" and features music from Broadway and Hollywood shows, with an emphasis on youth. "Mary Poppins", "The Sound of Music", "Oliver" and "The Music Man" will provide some of the tunes played during the evening.

Also featured will be 13-year-old violinist Susan Synnstedt in a performance of the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto.

Tomorrow evening's program will be "Fun with Music", featuring two special "derangements" by Hayman of music of the past—"Great Composers Then and Now" and "High and Dry", an essay on the musical evils of drinking.

Other works on the program will include "Servicemen on Parade", "Colonel Bogey March" and Mendelssohn's Virtuoso Piano Concerto No. 1, performed by 16-year-old Kenneth Kelter.

The three "Cabaret at Cobo" concerts are designed to raise funds for the DSO's many youth concerts.

DSO youth programs include the Young People's Concert Series, Educational Concert Series, In-School Concert Series and Detroit Symphony

Youth Orchestra—a total of some 60 concerts for almost 100,000 young persons.

Table seating for four will help provide an intimate atmosphere at the concerts, and drinks and refreshments will be available for purchase.

Tickets, which cost $24 and $20 per table, are available at the Ford Auditorium Box Office or by calling 961-0700. Four dollars of the ticket cost is tax deductible.

Cruise Lake Michigan for vacation change

Looking for an unusual, enjoyable vacation idea?

How about a cruise across Lake Michigan aboard one of the last three remaining cross-lake passenger and auto ferries. The price is reasonable, and you can easily fit a cruise into a weekend, according to spokesman for the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

It's like a mini ocean voyage, without the salt water.

Under Michigan's new rail preservation program, the department supports operation of the former Ann Arbor Railroad ferry, "Viking," which sails between Frankfort, Mich., and Keweenaw, Wis. Also in operation is a Chessie System passenger and auto ferry service between Ludington, Mich., and Milwaukee, Wis., and between Ludington and Manitowoc, Wis.

The Viking currently makes two round trips daily between the ports of Frankfort, located at the base of Leelanau Peninsula near Sleeping Bear Dune, and Keweenaw, located at the gateway to Wisconsin's Door Peninsula.

Although the Viking doesn't follow a published schedule, its two daily round trips usually leave Frankfort at approximately 9 a.m. and 8 p.m., arriving in Keweenaw at 12 and 11 p.m. The Chessie ferry does make scheduled sailings.

Passengers aboard the Viking can enjoy on-board meals and a relaxing 4-hour cruise across Lake Michigan. Single and double occupancy staterooms also are available.

The Viking holds from 15 to 30 automobiles and almost an unlimited number of bicycles. Groups in buses receive special group fares.

Last year approximately 5,000 passengers and 2,000 automobiles were carried between Frankfort and Keweenaw aboard the Viking.

The 1-way passage fares are $9.75 for adults, $4.90 for children 5 to 12 years of age, an additional $9 for a single stateroom and $11 for a double stateroom, $17.75 for automobiles or campers, $11.25 for motorcycles and $3 for bicycles.

Passengers are advised to call ahead to the Ann Arbor Railroad at Frankfort (616-352-7571) during business hours to check on the availability of space for automobiles and to determine sailing times. Arrival times are available 24 hours a day.

ORDER TO ANSWER

A session of said Court held at the Courthouse at Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan, on August 9, 1976.

PRESENT: HONORABLE Henry Zaborowski, District Judge

This matter having come on to be heard upon plaintiffs' Motion for Substituted Service and it appearing to the Court that plaintiffs filed a civil action against the named defendants on June 19, 1976 in this Court seeking foreclosure of a certain Land Contract; and it further appearing by Affidavits filed with this Court that the plaintiffs, after diligent effort to serve the defendants herein, were unable to do so, the Court being otherwise fully advised in the premises:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, that the defendants and each of them shall answer the Complaint filed in this cause or take such other action as may be permitted by law on or before the 16 day of September 9, 1976. Failure to comply with this Order will result in Judgment by Default against such defendants for the relief demanded in the Complaint filed in this Court.

CITY OF ROMULUS SIDEWALK ORDINANCE

CHAPTER III, ARTICLE 2.1

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND CHAPTER 3, ARTICLE 2 (SIDEWALK ORDINANCE)

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus deems it in the best interest of the citizens of the City to provide for their health, safety and welfare by the amending of Section 9 to require the removal of snow.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

SECTION I. Short Title

1.00 Snow Removal Ordinance

SECTION II. Sidewalk Maintenance

2.00 Section 9 is hereby repealed and the following is adopted in its place:

9.00 All public sidewalks within the City shall be kept and maintained in good repair and safe for the use of the public by the owner of the land adjacent to or abutting upon such sidewalk. No owner shall permit any snow or ice to remain on such sidewalk longer than twenty-four (24) hours after the same has fallen or formed and shall, within twenty-four (24) hours after the same has fallen or formed, remove such ice or snow or cause a sufficient quantity of salt or sand to be strewn thereon in such manner as to render the sidewalk safe for persons walking thereon.

For the purpose of this section, the term "public sidewalk" shall be construed to mean a sidewalk forming a part of the public highway.

Violation of this section shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction or the Wayne County Jail for not to exceed (90) days or both; further, if any owner shall neglect to keep and maintain the sidewalk along the front, rear or side of the land owned by him in good repair and safe for the use of the public, the said owner shall be liable to the City for any damages recovered against the City sustained by any person by reason of said sidewalk being unsafe and out of repair.

SECTION III. Conflicting Provisions Repealed

3.00 All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed only to the extent necessary to give this Ordinance full force and effect.

SECTION IV. Effective Date

4.00 This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication in a newspaper of general circulation.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an Ordinance duly adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the day of 1976.

Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk
City of Romulus

ATTEST:
James C. Stewart, Mayor

Within forty-five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such ordinance.

RESOLUTION 76-578

WHEREAS: Senators Plawecki, Corbin, Kammer, O'Brien, Davis, McCollough, Hertel, Pursell and Faxon on June 3, 1975 introduced Senate Bill 920, a bill to require certain meetings of certain public bodies to be open to the public, however, conferring on certain public bodies the right to maintain the confidentiality of certain sensitive matters; by granting the right to hold executive meetings where these matters will be discussed; and,

WHEREAS: The responsibility of the administrative and legislative officials of any community as a whole and to defend said community when challenged; and

WHEREAS: The pursuit of this responsibility mandates confidential negotiation when said body considers the employment or appointment of public officers, employees, staff members, or individual agents, the temporary suspension or disciplining or, to hear complaints of charges brought against a public officer, employee, staff member, or individual agent, to conduct strategy sessions with respect to collective bargaining or portetial litigation, to negotiate the purchase or disposal of real property and the consideration of records, which are specifically exempt by law from public inspection; and

WHEREAS: Senate Bill 920 contains, what represents to the officials of the City of Romulus, an excellent balance between the mandate requiring public meetings to be open, and the objectively constructed grant to hold executive sessions to discuss sensitive matters.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus does herewith set forth its enthusiastic support for Senate Bill 920

Communities benefit from Public Works law

Exact dollar amount to be set

All communities in Wayne County will be eligible for fresh federal funds under terms of the recent public works-countercyclical bill, passed by Congress in an override of President Gerald Ford's veto.

"The exact dollar amount that will be made available for smaller communities has not been reported to me as yet, but I anticipate at least several million dollars for public works projects and several million dollars more as direct funding through the countercyclical provision in the bill," said John Barr, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

"We the county worked with all elements of out total community—business, government and labor—to coordinate lobbying activity in the Congress," he added. "And we provided key assistance through our legislative agent in Washington."

The county's share of the countercyclical funding will be about $4.5 million over a 15-month period, beginning next month. In addition the county plans to obtain at least the same amount for public works projects.

Figures released by the federal government for the countercyclical funding is $19.2 million for Detroit, $252,500 for Dearborn, $254,500 for Taylor, $120,500 for Livonia, $99,600 for Westland, $76,100 for Lincoln Park and $76,100 for Dearborn Heights. The federal government only released figures for communities with more than 50,000 residents.

An estimated $20 million will be available for counties and communities throughout the state with populations less than 50,000. However, because of a complex formula based on population, unemployment rate and local tax effort is involved in determining exact allocations, Barr said it may be several weeks before details of distribution for communities of less than 50,000 in the county will be available.

The Greek historian Herodotus and the Hebrew historian Josephus both mention a race of men in Libya who had no heads. They did, however, sport faces on their chests!

Willow Run Credit Union earns NCUA Thrift Honor

The Willow Run Employees Federal Credit Union of Van Buren Township has earned a National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) Thrift Honor Award for its success in stimulating savings among small savers, according to Robert E. Boon, director of the Toledo region of NCUA.

The credit union attained a monthly growth rate of 2.3 percent in accounts above $20,000. Boon said the rate of growth was well above the average for federal credit unions of similar size.

On June 1 of this year the Willow Run credit union had 3,706 members with a total savings of $2,323,066.

Charted in August 1949, William Hawver currently is serving as president of the credit union, with Theodore Hancox as treasurer.

The award was presented to officials of the savings association by Credit Union Examiner Patricia Robinette on June 30.

The NCUA supervises, examines and insures 12,800 federal credit unions in the United States. It conducts the Thrift Honor Award program to provide an incentive for federal credit union officials to encourage members with small saving accounts to include regular savings as a part of their family financial management plan.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Romulus will hold a Public Hearing on September 7, 1976, at 7:00 p.m. in the Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objection to and/or having reason to support the establishment of an industrial development district as outlined in the following resolution.

76-597

WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan, and

WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax levy is at least thirty (30) mills may establish industrial development districts and offer industrial firms certain property tax incentives to attract new plants to the area, and

WHEREAS: Said Act provides that a firm may apply for and be issued an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate which entitles the facility to exemption from ad valorem real and personal property taxes for a period of twelve (12) years. In lieu of the property tax, the firm will pay a specific tax known as the Industrial Facility Tax. The Industrial Facility Tax for a new plant in an industrial development district is determined by the ad valorem property tax levied by the municipality instead, however, of using the total mills levied, only half the millage rate is applied, and

WHEREAS: Said Act provides that seventy-five (75 percent) percent of the owners of property to be affected by any proposed industrial development district may apply to the local governmental unit for the establishment of an industrial development district, and

WHEREAS: The Kelsey Hayes Corporation did on August 10, 1976, submit a request to the City of Romulus to establish an industrial development district, its description as follows:

19B1A2-1L2
That part of the S 1/2 of sec 19 described as beginning at the center 1/4 cor of sec 19 and proceeding thence N89DEG 53 M 20S E along the E and W 1/4 line of said section 40.85 ft to the S WLY line of Northline HWY thence S55DEG 52M 10S E Along said line 1541.40FT thence SODEG 04M 50S W 460.94FT thence S1DEG 25M 30S E 233.69FT thence SODEG 18M 38S E 1102.90FT to the S line of sec 19 thence S89DEG 38M 30S W along said S line 1322.30 ft to the S 1/4 cor of sec 19 thence S89DEG 41M 30S W along the S line of said section 1465.88FT thence due north 2678.38FT to the E and W 1/4 line of sec 19 thence due east along said line 1460.23FT to the point of beginning except the north 43FT thereof 154.21 AC K 154.21

WHEREAS: The Kelsey Hayes represents more than seventy-five (75 percent) percent of the property owners to be included in the aforementioned district as required by the provisions of Public Act 198, and

WHEREAS: Public Act 198 requires that a public hearing be held to hear any objections to and all reasons for the establishment of an industrial development district when a request is received by the local municipality for the establishment of such a district, and

WHEREAS: City Council of the City of Romulus is cognizant of the critical employment situation existing with its corporate limits compounded by a equally critical employment situation in the State and indeed the country, and

WHEREAS: The establishment of the requested industrial development district would go far to encourage Kelsey Hayes to maintain its industrial facilities in the City of Romulus thereby retaining hundreds of jobs for the citizens of the City of Romulus, as well as an existing tax base.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus hold a Public Hearing on September 7, 1976, at 7:00 p.m. in the Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objections to the establishment of the requested industrial development district and to take testimony from any and all parties having reason to support the establishment of the requested industrial development district.

BE FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to all property owners within the proposed boundaries of said industrial development district, to all units of government currently levying ad valorem tax on property included in the proposed industrial development district, and that a copy of this resolution together with a notice of public hearing be published at least once in the official newspaper of the City of Romulus not less than five (5) days preceding said hearing.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a resolution adopted by the Romulus City Council at its regular meeting held on the 10th day of August, 1976.

From white water to placid streams

U.P. rivers: Rugged canoeing country

The Upper Peninsula's Ontonagon and Sturgeon rivers flow through some of the most spectacularly rugged canoeing country east of the Mississippi River.

Each river has enough white water to worry the most experienced rapids-shooter while other parts of the streams through Copper Country wilderness just a few miles from civilization are canoed easily by families.

The Ontonagon is the most popular of the two streams for those wishing long trips with mostly wilderness terrain. The main stream of the Ontonagon from the merging point with the South Branch travels 18 miles north to Ontonagen and empties into Lake Superior.

Canoeists who wish to add 100 miles to the trip can select either one of two branch routes.

Trips started on the Middle Branch at Watersmeet travel about 20 miles downstream and connect with Bluff and Sucker creeks and then the South Branch which connects with the main stream.

From Watersmeet, the Middle Branch parallels County Road 208 and Forest Road 169 to Mex-i-min-e Falls and Burned Dam, 12 miles west of Watersmeet. The trip's first portage and the river's only public campground is at Burned Dam. From here downstream, paddlers camp on undeveloped state or power company-owned land little change from when Chippewa Indian canoes glided along that stretch.

Below Burned Dam and prior to joining the South Branch, portages are necessary at Little Falls and Bond Falls dam. There is a day-use park at the dam.

If continuing on after this 2-day trip from Watersmeet to Bond Falls, portage the dam and head west in a channel below it. The channel connects with Bluff and Sucker creeks, which flow into the South Branch.

That branch is easily canoed, with two rapids north of M-28 in Ewen only minor obstacles. Then it's a short trip to Victoria Reservoir and dam and a 3/4 mile final portage.

Near the dam and a mile north of the river is Victoria, a ghost town dating back to the 1880s copper mining era. As a Bicentennial project, Victoria's homes are being restored.

It's a 28-mile trip from Victoria Dam to Ontonagon, a pleasant 1- to 2-day float providing families or novices a wilderness trip. Chances are the only company on the river will be beaver, otter or an occasional shy black bear or bald eagle.

Canoeists on the last leg pass under Victoria Road Bridge. A historical marker there notes that a ton of pure copper was found nearby on the riverbank in the 1800s. The Ontonagon Boulder is in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

In the 1890s, lumber was replacing mining along the river and Ontonagon had four large mills. An 1896 fire wiped out the town and mills, but canoeists still can see a huge pulp mill operating along the riverbank.

The only canoe livery on the Ontonagon is Sylvania Outfitters at Watersmeet. Forty canoes are available for $8 per day each. Rates are higher if provisions and equipment are needed.

Plan on six days of hard work if taking the East Branch from Kenton to Ontonagon. The first white water is Sparrow Rapids, three miles north of Kenton, also site of a campground.

Below there the river is nearly problem-free until a point just below Mass City. Between Mass City and the US-45 bridge, even an expert is challenged by a 16-mile stretch of rapids. Below US-45, the river is placid past its merger with the Middle Branch and then north to Ontonagon.

The 60-mile-long Sturgeon River is canoeable from US-41 to Portage Lake. This river offers a 2-day float for families and novices from the M-38 bridge west of Baraga to Chassell on Portage Lake and a 2-day experts-only trip from US-41 to M-38.

From M-38 downstream the Sturgeon flows smoothly through alternating farm and forest scenery, with camping allowed on state land or private property with the owner's permission.

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOL MINUTES

Minutes of the Board of Education
REGULAR MEETING,

New Boston coed honored by EMU

The daughter of a New Boston couple recently was honored at a convocation in recognition as a 1976 Eastern Michigan University (EMU) Presidential Scholar.

Barbara Nichols, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nichols of Vanhorn Road, New Boston, was awarded a Presidential Scholarship during her senior year at New Boston High School. She graduated for the school last year with a 4.0 grade point average.

As a Presidential Scholar she receives a scholarship for tuition, room and board for the summer term at EMU.

Presiding over the honors program was Vice-President for Student Affairs Laurance N. Smith.

The convocation address was given by the president of the university, James H. Brickley.

In other collegiate news, several residents of the Belleville-Romulus community were the recipients of degrees from Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

Belleville resident Patrick Genrich of Beechwood Drive was awarded a bachelor of science degree in chemistry, while Diana L. Petri of Evans Road, New Boston earned her bachelor of science degree in sociology. The Romulus resident was Richard Zavadsky of Whitehorn, who netted his master of arts degree.

Resident designs 'saver'

A Romulus man has invented a money-saving auxiliary heating system that installs in the exhaust duct of furnaces, recovering part of the heat normally wasted by flue gases going up the chimney.

Floyd Moskall of South Telegraph Road, now is introducing his invention to manufacturers. A patent is pending on the device.

A metal housing, installed in the furnace exhaust duct, has a series of air ducts extending across the flow of exhaust gases. A blower mounted on the housing forces air through the ducts where is warmed by the escaping gases.

An auxiliary duct conducts the warm air back to the furnace heating duct, where it is added to the air heated by the furnace and directed to various parts of the house.

Pair of trophy winners

Competing in one of the largest fields ever from Westland, John Burdick (at left) and Dennis Bates finished second and third respectively at the City Championship Golf Tournaments held recently at Fellows Creek. Burdick's 167 total for 36 holes was six strokes off the pace set by flight winner Barry Marion. Bates finished two strokes behind Burdick.

Lutri to replace Carr

Glenn names coach

Gerald M. Lutri, who inherited John Glenn's football team from Lloyd Carr, "is optimistic that the winning tradition at Glenn will continue."

Carr bowed out as Glenn's head mentor to accept an assistant coaching job at Eastern Michigan University. He joined Coach Ed Chelebek's football staff as an as defensive backfield coach.

"I feel we have the talent, the support and the will to continue the fine job that Carr began," said Lutri, who was an assistant coach during Carr's tenure.

"We have a tough schedule and we're looking forward to the 1976 campaign," Lutri added.

Glenn finished second to Livonia Franklin in the Northwest Suburban Conference title race a year ago. The Westlanders amassed an 8-1 over-all record, the best in the school's 12-year history. Franklin went on to capture the first Class A state prep football championship.

Lutri has a solid football background. In 1965 he was an all-state tackle from Stevenson High School and went on to play for Northern Michigan University (1965-1969).

In 1967, Northern Michigan posted a perfect record and was ranked second nationally.

In 1969, Lutri was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys.

"We're very happy to have a man of Lutri's caliber around," said John Harrison, principal at John Glenn. "Coach Lutri possesses an excellent knowledge of the game, and is one of the best defensive coordinators in the state."

Sports

"With his demonstrated ability to communicate with his players and staff, I feel that our football program is in exceptionally fine hands," Harrison added.

Lutri's educational background includes a bachelor of science degree from Northern Michigan University. He majored in physical education and has a minor in science. He is currently finishing his masters at Eastern Michigan University.

Before coming to John Glenn in 1973, Lutri taught physical education at Fitzgerald Elementary School in Detroit. In 1972 he went to Belleville where he taught math and science.

Lutri is presently teaching in the science department at John Glenn.

Westland Legion '9' wins NABA North Division title

Westland's American Legion ball club may have had its problems during the regular season, but manager Don Wright's gang didn't show any malaise in post-season tournament play last week.

The Westlanders won seven of their eight games in Joliet, Ill. to capture the North Division of the National Amateur Baseball Federation championships.

"These kids really played the kind of ball they are capable of playing," said Wright who must now prepare his team for the national championships. "There is no way you can single out one player for this victory — all 15 did a superb job."

Westland defeated representatives from Detroit, Chicago and Fort Wayne, Ind. to get the bid for the nationals. They had to beat Chicago twice and Fort Wayne in a doubleheader to claim the title.

Westland now must await the winner of the South Division to decide the national championship.

And Westland will have the honor of hosting the tournament which will be played Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Jaycee Park.

"We didn't know who we'll meet from the South," Wright said, "but any team coming up from there will be tough. I'm happy that our local fans will get an opportunity to see the games."

The tournament will be decided on a best of five-games series. The first game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Friday.

For ticket information, please contact the Westland American Legion Post.

Tartars boast 5 from area

Wayne State University's football roster lists five former All-Area gridders.

Heading the list is Keith Anleitner, a four-year veteran who will captain the Tartars. Anleitner is a linebacker being groomed as a possible All-American candidate.

Anleitner's teammates from the area include Randy Epley, a junior linebacker who was graduated from Livonia Franklin; Bill Kelley, a slotback from John Glenn; Dean Morrison, an end from Livonia Franklin and Dan Quinn, also a Livonia Franklin graduate who is a sophomore slotback.

The Tartars will start no-pads drills Aug. 23-25, add pads on the 26th and lighten up in the afternoon for a 2 p.m. Picture Day.

J & D is 'perfect' champ

Softball playoff fever hits Class A

Westside Dompolski, shooting for its second softball championship in the Wayne Class A League, eliminated Burghuff's from the playoffs 8-4 last week.

The reigning Class A champs struck for three runs in the fourth inning and picked up four more in the fifth to erase a 4-0 deficit.

The loss, Burghuff's second, ousted them from the playoffs.

Burghuff's stunned the champs as it scored three times in the first inning off of winning pitcher Andy Kinunen, but it couldn't hold on to its early lead.

Kinunen then settled down and allowed only one run after that shaky start. He was tagged for 10 hits, four by Norm Beasley who drove in two runs on a homer, double and a pair of singles.

Ron Hayes drilled two singles and Dave Conlin chased in one run on a single for the losers.

Westside got to losing pitcher Bill Weston for three homers. Don Deputala led the assault with one of those roundtrippers and a double, good for three RBIs, while Larry Sheffer hammered a triple and homer for two runs batted in and John Lee's single and homer counted for two more RBIs.

Kinunen helped his own cause as he latched on to two singles.

In the other Class A match-up, Capraros rallied for three runs in the fifth and sixth innings to pull out a cliffhanging 9-8 decision over Spicer Carpentry.

The victory was Capraros's ticket to the finals. Spicer's, however, must meet Westside and the winner will advance to the championship round.

Spicer appeared well on its way to victory as it built up a 7-2 lead in the top of the fourth. But Capraros refused to quit and came back at losing pitcher Harry Allen for six runs in the stretch.

Lee Calloway's two-run homer in the sixth drove in the tying and what proved to be the winning runs. Calloway wound up with two hits for the day. Teammates Dave Broad and Jerry Detmer checked in with three hits each while Pete Ostrowski and Ray Jaskot split four hits between them.

Calloway, also the winning pitcher, gave up three hits and two RBIs to John Patterson. Bob Killingbeck collected a pair of singles while Steve Patterson's triple chased home one run.

J & D's climaxed a perfect 10-0 regular season record by winning the Wayne women's softball playoff championship.

The champs rattled Mac Tools 14-2, whipped Hope Care 10-2 and eked out a 7-4 victory over the Flim Flam for the playoff title. Earlier, the J & D contingent captured the regular season crown with an undefeated 10-0 mark.

J & D will represent Wayne in the state tournament to be held over the Labor Day weekend at Mt. Pleasant.

The champs destroyed Mac Tools in the finals as they built up a 9-0 first inning lead, then coasted to an easy victory.

Bea Bassett, the winning pitcher, scattered six hits. She lost her shutout in the sixth inning when Mac Tools scored twice. Mac's got singles from Ginny Hathorne, Renee Burnee, who also was the losing pitcher, Brenda Schwartz, Jackie Stienhauser, Joyce Schwartz and Cherie Fargo.

Lou Hoefft led J & D's attack at the plate as she rapped four hits, a pair of doubles and singles. Mate Cheryl Soltip also checked in with three hits while Gail Diehl and Sue Johnson each had two hits.

In their confrontation with Hope Care, J & D broke open a close contest with five runs in the top of the seventh inning.

First flight leaders

Checking in with the best scores in the City's first flight recently at the City Golf Championships were Rich Dicesore (second from right) who shot a 161 for 36 holes to win flight honors. George Swistock Sr. and John Russell. Making the trophy presentation to Dicesore is Ron Wolkowicz, representing the Inkster Parks and Recreation Department.

GC's Anleitner, All-American?

Keith Anleitner, an All-Area football alumnus from Garden City East High School, earned still another honor.

Anleitner, who will captain this year's Wayne State University grid team, received feature treatment in the pre-season forecasting magazines as a potential All-American prospect.

The senior linebacker has been the Tartar leader since joining the squad three years ago.

KEITH ANLEITNER

WSU has been 7-3-0 and 8-3-0 the last two years and won the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) Championship in its first season of play to cap the school's record-setting victory total 1975 season.

Coach Dick Lowry's forces begin drills August 23 for a 10-game season opening September 10 at Howard. WSU makes its home debut September 18 vs. Northwood Institute.

Be sure to consider these safety rules of the road when you travel in your car. Try to have someone accompany you to your car at night. This is especially true for women. A lone female walking through a deserted parking lot may be a victim of muggers. When driving, always watch for the unexpected. Never allow yourself to drive a car with a problem farther than your service station. Many service stations are operating on reduced hours, so plan gassing your car carefully.

Keep your car running at its best with quality parts and tools from KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster—the House of a Million Parts! Further information about the tournament may be obtained by telephoning Pickering at 729-4550.

The Wayne tournament is open to all Wayne residents, persons working in the city or students of the Wayne-Westland Community School District.

The tournament will be held on Friday (Aug. 20) and competition will be staged for boys and girls, 17 and under on that date. On Saturday, (Aug. 21) the men's and women's events, 18 and over will be staged while on Sunday (Aug. 22) the men's and women's finals are scheduled.

All matches will be held on the Attwood tennis courts, located at the corner of Howe Rd. and Annapolis.

Entries must be received by 4:30 p.m. on Thurs., Aug. 19 for the junior division events and Fri., Aug. 20 for the senior events.

Entries will be accepted at the Wayne Recreation Department, 4635 Howe Road and contestants must also pay their entry fees at that time.

The junior division fees and the men and women's singles competition fees are $1.50 while the doubles is $3.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department at PA 1-7400.

Franklin to hold physical

All eighth and ninth grade boys who are interested in trying out for the Franklin Junior High football team are urged to report to the school at 1 p.m., Tues., Aug. 24 for physical examinations.

Practice will begin on Wed., Aug. 25.

Further information may be obtained by telephoning Coach Tom Nordeen at 326-1335.

ED ABBOTT

Abbott eyes MSU berth

Ed Abbott, former All-Area griddier from Romulus High School, will be eyeing a starting defensive tackle berth when Michigan State University opens the 1976 campaign.

Abbott, a 6-4, 235-pound freshman, lettered four years and was the team's mainstay in his soph, junior and senior years at Romulus.

Coached by Tom Baldwin, he earned all-state consideration and was also a finalist in wrestling at the prep state finals.

Abbott was born in Wayne and is attending MSU on an athletic scholarship.

Dolphins crown club swim champs

As the culmination of a very successful 1976 summer season, the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club crowned its club champions Friday during a gala day of swimming and banquet festivities annually known as the Dolphin Junior Olympics.

The Wayne-Westland swimmers competed Friday morning in 46 events including all four competitive swimming strokes in five age and six categories.

Each Dolphin was allowed to compete in three events with medals awarded for first, second and third-place finishes, and ribbons — through seventh place.

Following the morning competition at Attwood Pool, contestants and their families retired for a rest before reconvening Friday evening for the awards presentation and banquet, held in the Wayne Community Center.

Six Dolphins, including the boy and girl selected most valuable during the 1976 season, each received three gold medals for first-place.

The six are Mike Greuber, in the boys' 9-10 year class; Catherine Batterson, girls' 11-12; Eric Head, boys' 11-12; Jamie Thompson, girls' 13-14; John Lewandowski, boys' 13-14; and Tracey Batterson, girls' 15-and-over.

Catherine Batterson, who won the 200-yard individual medley, 50-yard backstroke, and 50-yard breaststroke, was selected most valuable girl Dolphin this summer, while Head—who won the 50-yard freestyle, 50-yard breaststroke and 50-yard butterfly—received the boys' most-valuable trophy.

Greuber easily captured golds in the 50-yard freestyle, 50-yard backstroke, and 50-yard butterfly. Miss Thompson took honors in the 200-yard individual medley, 50-yard backstroke, and 50-yard breaststroke.

Lewandowski gained his victories in the 200-yard individual medley, 50-yard freestyle, and 50-yard butterfly. Tracey Batterson (one of five sisters including Catherine), topped the girls' 15-18 class with wins in the 200-yard individual medley, 100-yard backstroke, and 100-yard butterfly.

Capturing two gold medals were seven Dolphins including Angela Kohler and Mary Beth Henson, both in 8-under girls'; Jeff Eddy and David Reynolds, 8-under boys'; Kelly Burnette, girls' 9-10; Mary Batterson, girls' 11-12, and Tom Brown, boys' 15-18.

Other gold medal winners included Kurt (Korky) Whitehead, Kris Whitehead, Gretchen Batterson, Kelly Batterson, Rick Matheny, Randy Ferguson, Mark Newman, Karl Staber, Lori Shenk, Peter Campbell, Renee Whitson, Brad Rockman, and Teri Discher.

Included in the evening program were presentation of over 100 plaques for Swim-A-Thon efforts, special recognition to club officers and parents, a spectacular narrated slide presentation put together by Carl Statler and Bill Balwinski, and the awarding of championship T-shirts to swimmers who hold at least one swim time record in his or her age group.

Tokens of appreciation were presented to club President Mary Lou Brown and the coaching staff of Jim McPartlin, Dirk Johnston, Dave Santure and Dick Fisch.

Mrs. Brown and McPartlin couldn't express enough the club's appreciation to the Wayne Department of Parks and Recreation, prime sponsors of the Dolphin summer program.

"Everyone in the department from Director Ted D'Pulos to pool coordinator Mike Gouin right down to Harry Long and the entire department staff have been tremendous," McPartlin said. "Any time we've needed assistance, they have been right there."

Listed below are the medal winners in all 46 events of the 1976 Dolphin Junior Olympics. A total of 150 boys and girls competed.

Girls' 11-12 200-yard individual medley: Catherine Batterson, Mary Batterson and Kris Johnston; boys' 11-12 200-yard individual medley: Kurt (Korky) Whitehead, Todd Melanshek and Mike Egan; girls' 13-14 200-yard I.M.: Jamie Thompson, Sharon Fontaine and Thelma Kew; boys' 13-14 200-yard I.M.: John Lewandowski, Mark Newman and Dave Hills; girls' 15-18 200-yard I.M.: Tracey Batterson, Renee Whitson and Lorraine Shaffer; boys' 15-18 I.M.: Tom Brown, Karl Staber and Brad Rockman.

Results of other girls' events included the following: 8-under 50-yard freestyle: Angela Kohler, Mary Beth Henson and Marlene Kowalski; 9-10 50-yard free: Kris Whitehead, Kelly Burnette and Lori Shenk; 11-12 50-yard free: Mary Batterson, Sandy Burns and Lori Miles; 13-14 50-yard free: Gretchen Batterson, Sharon Fontaine and Teri Discher; 15-18 100-yard free: Kelly Batterson, Sandy Baran and Julie Johnston.

Medal winners in girls' backstroke events were: 8-under — Angela Kohler, Marlene Kowalski and Julie Gesch; 9-10—Kelly Burnette, Beth

Belated awards

When there weren't enough trophies to go around recently at the City Championship Golf Tournament, the top three finishers in Westland's third flight, (from left) — Dick Henry, Bob Knechtges and Jim Beauvais — had to await a special order. They received their trophies last week and Jim Pickering, representing the Westland Parks and Recreation Department, made the trophy presentations. Beauvais wound up as the winner of that flight while Knechtges finished second. Henry was forced into a 3-way sudden death playoff and won.

Martel and Theresa Brown; 11-12—Catherine Batterson, Sandy Burns and Diane Brown; 13-14—Jamie Thompson, Gretchen Batterson and Thelma Kew; 15-18—Tracey Batterson, Sandy Baran and Lorraine Shaffer.

In the girls' breaststroke events medal winners were: 8-under—Mary Beth Henson, Marlene Kowalski, and Julie Gesch; 9-10—Lori Shenk, Kris Balwinski and Kris Whitehead; 11-12—Catherine Batterson, Sandy Burns and Diane Brown; 13-14—Jamie Thompson, Teri Discher and Gretchen Batterson; 15-18—Renee Whitson, Kelly Batterson and Tami Thompson.

Girls' butterfly results were: 8-under—Mary Beth Henson and Julie Gesch; 11-12—Mary Batterson, Lori Miles and Kris Johnston; 13-14—Teri Discher, Sharon Fontaine and Monica Jones; 15-18—Tracey Batterson, Kathy Sanford and Kelly Batterson.

Victors in the boys' freestyle events were: 8-under—Jeff Eddy, Keith Head and Greg Bailey; 9-10—Mike Greuber, David Reynolds and Peter Campbell; 11-12—Eric Head, Todd Melanshek and Randy Ferguson; 13-14—John Lewandowski, Steve Matheny and Steve Thompson; 15-18—Rick Matheny, Tom Brown and Mike Balwinski.

In backstroke events for boys, results were: 8-under—David Reynolds, Keith Head and Ken Stack; 9-10—Mike Greuber, Peter Campbell and Steve Rachwal; 11-12—Randy Ferguson, Korky

Whitehead and Todd Melanshek; 15-18—Karl Staber, Harold Sleicher and Joe Miles.

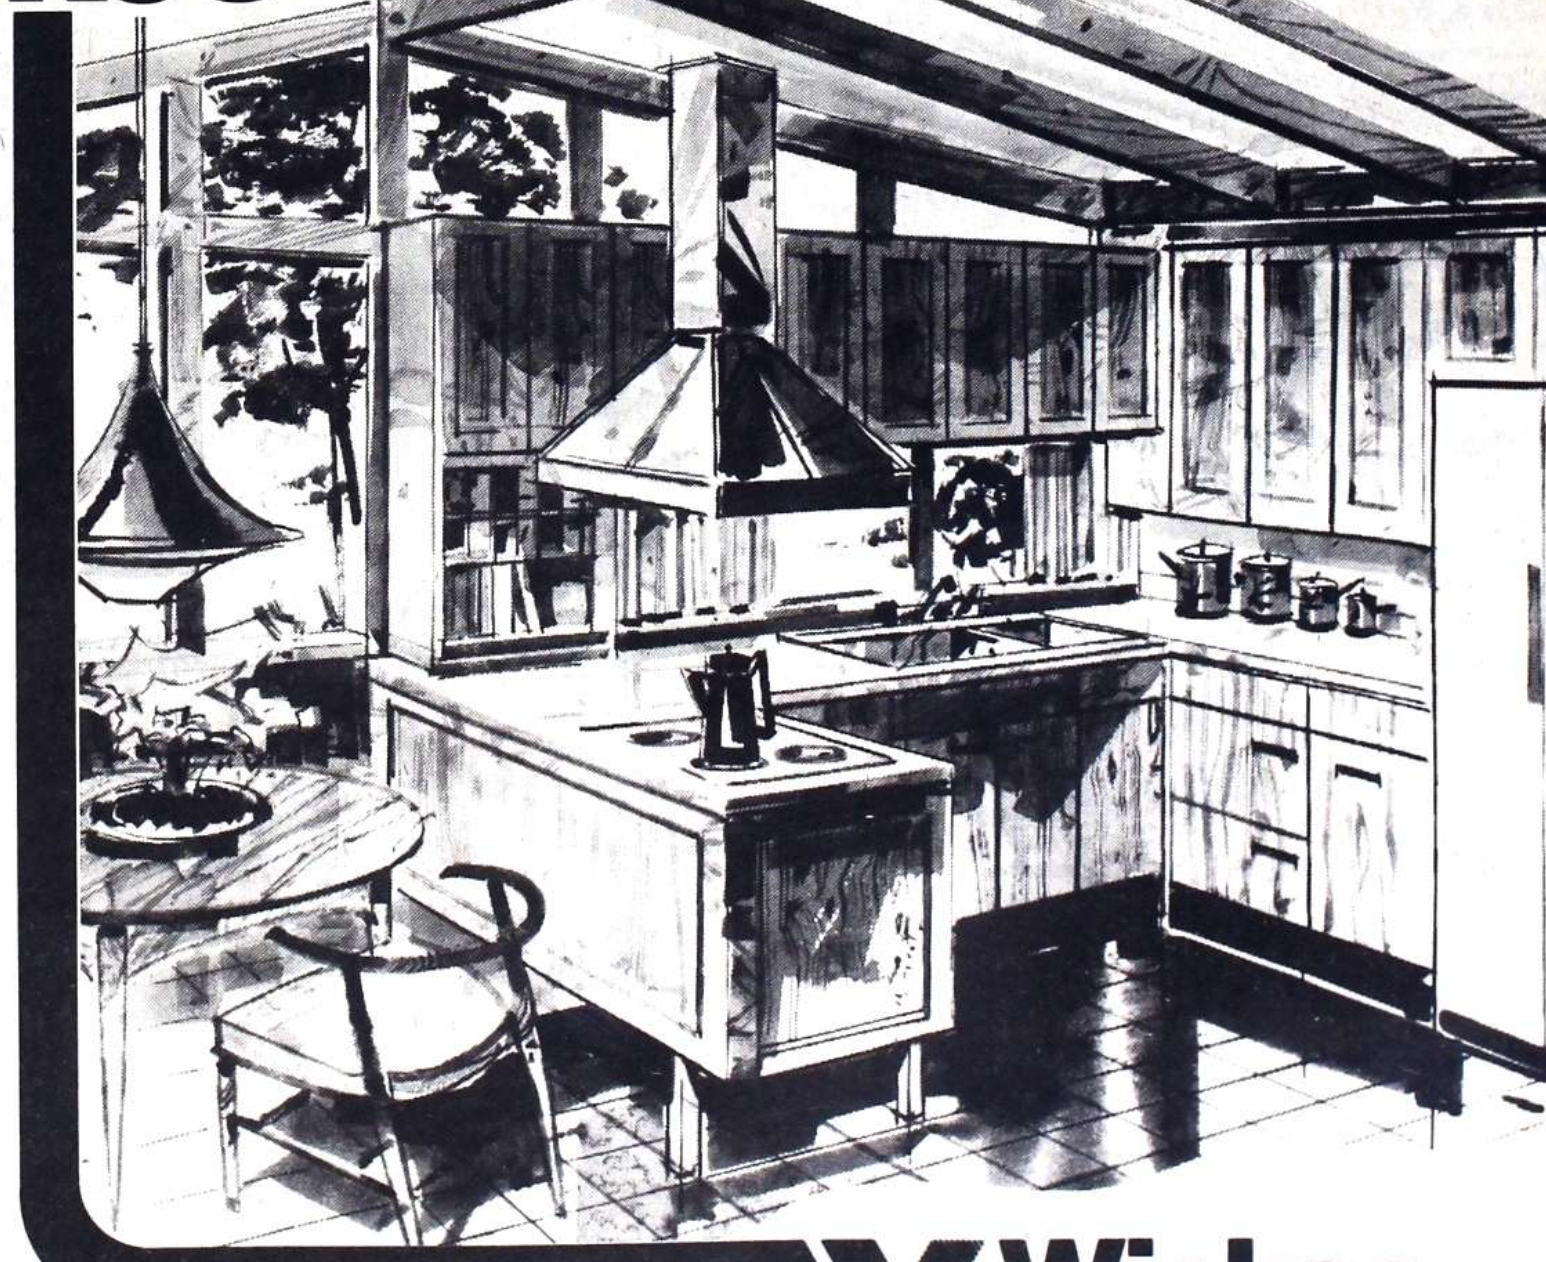

Boys' breaststroke results were: 8-under—Jeff Eddy, Keith Head and Greg Bailey; 9-10—Peter Campbell, Steve Rachwal; 11-12—Eric Head, Mike Egan and Randy Ferguson; 13-14—Andy Balwinski, Rick Melanshek and Scott Staber; 15-18—Brad Rockman, Tim Thompson and Jim Watts.

In the boys' butterfly category, results were: 8-under—David Reynolds, Jeff Eddy and Ken Stack; 9-10—Mike Greuber; 11-12—Eric Head, Korky Whitehead and Jeff Thompson; 13-14—John Lewandowski, Steve Matheny and Mark Newman; 15-18—Tom Brown, Mike Balwinski and Tim Thompson.

One of the most delightful bird songs to be heard in northern Michigan is that of the white-throated sparrow. So sweet and haunting are its notes that our neighbor, Ontario, which has many of the little birds, has adopted it as its official bird.

Perhaps this sweet-voiced songster has nested around our woodland home in past years. But if so, we had overlooked that fact even if we had been well aware of its singing qualities in early morning and just before dusk. It was just this year, in fact, that we found a nest quite by accident. The consequences could have been tragic.

The garage had not been painted in several years and this was the year to do it, declared Dorothy. Accordingly, we all pitched in and moved a woodpile that had been stacked against one side, then began to cut the tall grass which had grown up behind it. The cutting was almost done when we found a compact little nest built right up against the garage foundation wall.

Quiet waiting finally revealed the female white-throat lurking anxiously nearby. Our activities around the garage were threatening her nest with its four tiny blue-green eggs that were liberally marked with dark brown spots. What to do? The little nest stood out starkly without its protective, tall grasses that had sheltered it.

Fortunately, it was very warm and there was little danger of the eggs becoming chilled. The paint on the back of the garage and around on the woodpile side was hurriedly applied. The best solution I could think of then would be to protect the nest with something artificial and hope the female white-throat would accept it.

Using chunks of firewood from the woodpile, I built a protective ring nearly around the nest, then slanted a board overhead to offer shelter from a hot sun and any rain which might fall. That done, we all backed off to hopefully let nature take its course.

Half an hour later a check of the nest revealed the female was again sitting on the eggs. The reason for her anxiety was revealed next day when the midges, naked birds began to pop out of their shells. When all four of them had hatched, the male white-throat rejoined his mate and the two began a busy shuttle service carrying food to the brood.

As in the case with all ground-nesting birds, these youngsters matured rapidly. They blossomed out with protective fuzz before we left home for a week of combination work and vacation in Ontario. When we returned only two of the little birds, almost completely feathered, remained. As nature rules, it is survival of the fittest with all of her creatures.

It was then late in the day so I decided to wait until the next morning to shoot some pictures of the little twin white-throats. I shouldn't have delayed. Next morning the nest was empty; the twins had followed their parent birds away from the artificial log ring and into more natural habitat nearby. Perhaps they will sing for us next year, too.

And folks driving along the shoreline of Lakes Michigan or Huron on good highways or dirt two-tracks may admire the waving reed beds or boulder-strewn waters for their beauty. They are scenic but to the confirmed fisherman they represent something more that goes unnoticed by the non-angler.

These are the finest of smallmouth bass waters, yet for some mysterious reason, hundreds of miles of such shoreline go unfished each year! This lack of attention from anglers may be due to the fact that Michigan has so much good fishing that is easy to reach that it really is not necessary to go exploring in hard-to-reach spots.

Hot summer months are the most popular for family vacations. At this same time, though, fishing in the inland lakes is normally quite poor. The same, however, can't be said for the Great Lakes since they take longer to warm up and smallmouth bass fishing just starts to get good when inland angling is falling flat.

Nor is Great Lakes bass fishing at all expensive. Since the best smallmouth waters are shallow they can be reached most easily with a small, cartop boat.

THE LONG... AND... THE SHORT

If you've got a big load on your mind, get a load of what Toyota's got for you. More small trucks to choose from with more power and more standard equipment than anybody in the business.

Take our 1/2 Ton. It's our lowest priced. Yet you still get a big 22 liter engine, 4 speed synchromesh, power disc front brakes with 9 in. booster, radiator with reserve tank and cargo tie-down hooks. Not to mention things like whitewalls, mudguards and power-assisted low-thru ventilation. All standard. For bigger loads, our Long Bed gives you almost a foot and a half longer cargo space, a longer wheel-base and bigger gas tank. And if you're a sportsman, we've got two sporting propositions. Our SR-5 Sport Trucks. Choose either 1/2-ton or long bed and you get gas-saving, engine-saving, 5-speed over drive transmission, AM radio, wide radials, high back bucket seats, racing stripes and a lot of other extras. All standard equipment no charge. More. It's getting an outfit that fits your needs, outfitted the way you want for less.
